DEMAND RECALL OF DIPLOMAT

EXPECT NAZI INVASION YUGOSLAVIA

GERMANY ORDERED DIPLOMATS RETURN FROM YUGOSLAVIA

BELIEVED HITLER HAS DECIDED WAR WITH BALKAN NATION IS INEVITABLE

By ROBERT ST. JOHN

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 3.—(AP)—Germany ordered all of her legation staff save two men home to Berlin today in a flurry of ominous military activity and diplomatic circles expressed belief that Adolf Hitler had decided that war with Yugoslavia was inevitable.

Only the German charge d'affaires and military attache were exempted from the recall order, which a legation secretary said would be fulfilled by nightfall.

Motorized German troops were reported massing in Rumania opposite the Yugoslav frontier town of Bela Grkva, only 50 miles from Belgrade, and at Szeged in southern Hungary.

Vladimir Macek, veteran leader of Croat autonomists, announced he was entering the new government of Premier Gen. Dusan Simovic as a vice premier and the nation thus seemed assured of unity, despite German and Italian efforts to split it.

Macek said he hoped that "despite all difficulties piling upon us we can, with collaboration and a common effort, preserve peace and overcome the difficulties which dark times recently have brought upon us."

Atrocities Accused.

The German radio, in early morning broadcasts reminiscent of those which preceded the Nazi entry into Czecho-Slovakia, accused the Yugoslavs anew of committing atrocities against the German minority in the country.

Indications that the recall order was unexpected were seen in the fact that last night the staff members had been making extensive preparations to barricade themselves in the legation if war came.

Large supplies of food had been stored in the building and firearms and ammunition were concealed there.

"We worked out a scheme to defend ourselves," one legation member said, "during the brief period while our troops were crossing the frontier and capturing Belgrade."

Predict Quick Taking Belgrade.

German circles here predicted that Belgrade would be in the hands of the Nazis within 48

THREE INJURED AND MUCH DAMAGE CAUSED BY STORM WORTHAM

COMMUNITY IS REPORTED TO HAVE SUFFERED PROPERTY LOSS OF $200,000

WORTHAM, April 3.—(Spl.)—Three persons were injured, none believed seriously, and property damage estimated at more than $200,000 resulted from a tornadic wind that struck this community about 8 o'clock Wednesday night during a heavy rain and hailstorm.

The injured were Miss Estelle Ezell, badly cut hand; M. Smith, garageman, cuts on hand and face; and Billy Joe Bounds, high school student, who had several splinters driven into his body. Bounds was taken to a Mexia hospital and was reported resting well Thursday.

The wind hit the town at the southwest corner and traveled along a slightly east of northeast course for perhaps a half mile through the community and leaving a path some 150 to 200 yards wide. More than thirty houses were reported badly damaged along with a large number of smaller structures and almost every building in the path of the twister suffered some damage.

Residents of the town were still excited about the occurrence Thursday and busily engaged in observing the numerous freakish events and exchanging experiences. At the Ezell home the garage was blown down on top of a car, and a tree fell on top of the pile but when the debris was removed only the radiator cap of the car was found to have been damaged.

Telephone lines were blown down and service badly disrupted for a time, and the town was without electric service for several hours, Many of the streets were blocked by fallen trees and telephone and electric wires.

Wortham was visited by a tor-

Three Men Were Killed in Blast Bithulithic Plant

TYLER, April 3.—(AP)—Three men were killed in an explosion that rocked the plant of the Texas Bithulic company nine miles east of Tyler today.

The dead, burned beyond recognition, were:

John H. Smith, 37, Tyler a night watchman.

W. E. Simpson, Jr., Sulphur Bluff, Tex., truck driver.

N. J. Walker, about 40, Overton, truck driver.

Smith county authorities started an immediate investigation but were unable to determine cause of the explosion. The plant, located near Arp in the East Texas oil field, was not in operation during the night.

Violent electrical storms occurred during the night.

There were no eye witnesses.

Walker and Simpson, truck drivers, arrived at the plant from Talco with loads of cut-back asphalt, a road building material containing a small percentage of gasoline, shortly before the explosion occurred.

Their bodies were pinned between a 10,000 gallon storage tank and a truck. Smith, night watchman at the plant was hurled into a machinery pit 50 yards away by the force of the blast. Walkers watch was stopped at 3:28.

Justice of the Peace Fonzie Sadler of Troup was conducting an inquest.

Smith is survived by his wife and two daughters of Tyler; Simpson by his wife and four children of Sulphur Bluff and Walker is survived by his wife, daughter and son of Overton and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Walker of Wichita Falls.

The plant was a temporary one erected to furnish the company with asphalt to be used in building shoulders on a highway project.

There was no statement from local officials of the company. An official of the company from Houston was en route here.

AIR-LINER MISSING AND HOURS OVERDUE IN FLORIDA STORM

BIG TRANSPORT SHIP CARRIED 15 PERSONS WHEN IT LEFT WEST PALM BEACH

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 3.—(AP)—An Eastern Air Lines transport plane carrying 15 persons was missing and hours overdue this afternoon on a storm-beset run from West Palm Beach to Dayton Beach.

Heavy rains, high winds and clouds laid a belt across the state along the route of the plane, last heard from when it left West Palm Beach at 8:16 a. m. for a one-hour run into Dayton, next stop on the Miami-New York trip.

Tentatively listed among the 12 passengers was famed Surgeon George W. Crile of Cleveland and Mrs. James M. Cox, Jr., daughter-in-law of the former Ohio governor and democratic presidential candidate.

Arthur Dix, Dayton Beach airport manager, said apprehension was felt first when the plane failed to make its usual radio report from Melbourne, about a half hour out of Daytona.

Commander N. H. Leslie of Coast Guard divisional headquarters at Jacksonville said an order had been isued to all coast guard vessels and planes along the route to aid in a search for the plane.

Twelve passengers and a crew of three were aboard.

The New York office of Eastern Airlines said the plane—northbound flight No. 14—left Miami on schedule at 7:30 a. m. (EST) pulled out of West Palm Beach at 8:16 a. m. and had not been heard from since.

"We can't contact them by radio," an official said. "The radio is full of static; there's a bad storm in the plane's vicinity, apparently. We're hoping that its circling in an attempt to land or has already landed elsewhere."

VIRTUAL ADMISSION ETHIOPIA COLLAPSE FOR ITALIANS NEAR

POPULACE ITALY PREPARED FOR "FURTHER PAINFUL LOSSES" BY COMMENTATOR

(By The Associated Press)

Italy's populace was prepared today for news of "further painful losses" with a virtual admission of the collapse of Italian-conquered Ethiopia through the expected fall of Addis Ababa and Dessie.

Italy wrested the African kingdom from Emperor Haile Selassie in 1935-36.

Mario Appelius, fascist military commentator, declared 300,000 British troops "flanked by Haile Selassie's savage hordes" were striking into Ethiopia from 13 routes.

"Our spirit is prepared by now for new painful losses," he said, adding that the Italian high command was "evacuating certain urban centers to save the population from the horrors of street fighting."

The latest British report said Britain's African armies had captured a town only 180 miles from Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

Appelius also spoke of "our sorrow at Eritrea," where the British were reported sweeping toward the Red Sea port of Massaua, the last big objective in that fascist colony.

War alarms in the Balkans rose in a crescendo as Adolf Hitler recalled the German legation staff in Belgrade, stirring belief in diplomatic circles that war is now inevitable, and the German press in Berlin chorused charges that Yugoslavia had aggressive designs on Austria.

German Fugitives Quoted.

The Nazi press quoted German fugitives as saying the Serbs were widely hailing a remark attributed to a Serb general, Modic

"I and my north army will be in Vienna in two days."

Vlandimir Macek, Croatian peasant party leader, announced he was entering the pro-British King Peter II's new government as vice premier—thereby making Yugoslavia a united nation the threat of war.

Previously, the Germans had asserted that Yugoslavia was torn by internal dissension among the Croats, Slovenes and Serbs.

In neighboring Hungary, the Hungarian government was reported to have resigned following the mystery-tinged death of Premier Count Pal Teleki, who was known for his personal pro-British sympathies.

Friends of the Count first asserted he had committed suicide. The Hungarian foreign office, however, said he had died of heart trouble.

NEW OUTBREAKS OF FIGHTING OCCURRED AT BIG FORD PLANT

AGREED IN CONGRESS IT WAS "ABOUT TIME" ROOSEVELT SHOULD SPEAK OUT

(By The Associated Press.)

New outbreaks of fighting occurred today near the strike-closed Ford Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., as Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner said resumption of mediation conferences between the CIO and company officials had been postponed.

In Washington, house democratic leader, McCormack, of Massachusetts, agreed with a questioning representative that it was "about time" for President Roosevelt to speak out on the strike situation.

The house military committee decided to start an inquiry into th defense program and strikes Monday.

At the White House, Press Secretary Stephen Early said President Roosevelt was "waiting and watching" the situation.

Four negroes were severely beaten by union pickets near the Ford plants and three pickets were struck by an automobile which plowed through the fighting group.

The mediation conference was postponed until state police and union leaders could reach an agreement on details of passing nonproduction workers through picket lines.

Working on Engine Plant.

State police said the union had agreed to permit construction workers on an aircraft engine factory within the Rouge plant to reach their jobs. The plant is scheduled for initial production of engines on a defense order sometime in June.

Officials of the American Bantam Car Corporation plant at Butler, Pa., where midget reconnaissance cars are being produced for the army, reported operations had been suspended because a strike in Michigan had tied up ma-

City-Wide Clean Up Campaign Will Start Immediately

A program which included a city-wide cleanup campaign immediately, improvement of the appearance of vacant buildings, removal of civic eyesores, marking of bluebonnet trails and other points was outlined at a meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday.

The group agreed to co-operate with the city commission and other organizations in a thorough cleanup of the town before the convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, and also to aid in maintaining a closer watch on conditions. Support of the pastors of the churches of the city will be enlisted in the program.

Members of the two garden clubs were asked to be responsible for proper marking of drives through the bluebonnet fields in the vicinity of the city.

N. Suttle Roberts is chairman of the committee which includes Boyce Martin, W. P. McCammon, R. S. Reading, W. Ray Coffey, Rev. E. T. Miller, Rev. P. E. Riley, Mrs. W. H. Hastings, and Mrs. R. L. Hamilton.

SUB-COMMITTEE OF SENATE REDRAFTING HOUSE TAX MEASURE

SERIES OF SENATE COMMITTEE HEARING ON OMNIBUS TAX BILL CONCLUDED

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—Marking another step toward passage of a tax bill, a senate sub-committee today tackled the complex task of re-drafting a house-approved $25,500,000 omnibus proposal intended to solve Texas' social security problem.

The upper legislative chamber's committee on state affairs concluded a series of hearings on tax proposals last night and voted unanimously to instruct a subgroup to formulate a measure for the house bill and report it as soon as possible.

Committee Chairman Weaver Moore of Houston, authorized to head the sub-group also, was granted time to appoint two other members to the sub-committee and then stated:

"This three-man committee will bring out a bill. I want to assure you this will be no burial affair." (He referred to the sometimes-adopted procedure of referring a bill to a sub-group for purposes of killing it.)

Revenues from the bill would provide the answer to the legislature's greatest and most pressing problem—providing funds to pay for bigger old age pensions, aid to the needly blind, aid to dependent children, teachers retirement and possibly other governmental functions.

Defended By Representatives

Prior to the action, Representatives G. C. Morris of Greenville and James Taylor of Kerens, who aided in drafting the house proposal in committee, defended it before the senate group which had heard only attacks on the bill throughout lengthy hearings.

Both, when questioned, expressed the opinion $20,000,000 additional tax money would answer the state's needs. They and others,

British African Troops March Into Asmara Wednesday

KHARTOUM, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, April 2. (Delayed)—(AP)—British troops marched into Asmara, the capital of Italian Eritrea, today as Italian troops retreated southward into Ethiopia along the great highway they built for conquest.

British planes flew just above the level of the city roofs as the general commanding an Indian division drove slowly through streets lined with white flags and thousands of fluttering handkerchiefs.

A few miles to the south other British planes repeatedly bombed Italian guns and motor transports streaming toward Adigrat and Makale, in Ethiopia, for what

HOUSE DEMOCRATIC LEADER BELIEVES IT IS TIME FOR ACTION

"ABOUT TIME" FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK OUT ABOUT STRIKES

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—Representative McCormick of Massachusetts, House democratic leader, agreed with a questioner on the House floor today that it was "about time" for President Roosevelt to speak out on the defense strike situation.

The exchange came shortly after Stephen Early, White House secretary, told reporters that the President was "waiting and watching" the situation.

McCormick took the floor after criticism by Representatives Taber (Rep.) of New York, and Cox (Dem.) of Georgia, of the administration's attitude toward the strikes.

"I'm satisfied that he (the President) will bear down—in a constitutional way," McCormick replied.

"Labor in general are not ingrates and when the President speaks, as I believe he will, labor will respond to his leadership."

"Doesn't the gentleman think it's about time for him to speak?" interrupted Representative Woodrum (Dem.) of Virginia.

"Yes," McCormick replied, amid applause.

Early said the lengthy conference yesterday between Mr. Roosevelt and nine military and civilian advisers involved "some labor discussion" as well as aid to Britain and her allies "in all forms."

One of the President's callers today was Chairman Vinson (Dem.) of Georgia, of the House naval committee who has introduced legislation to take over plants unable to fulfill defense contracts.

Senator Byrd (Dem.) of West Virginia, who called on the democratic leadership to obtain effective and immediate action yesterday, asserted today he favored giving the new national mediation board full power to deal with strikes in defense industries.

Chairman George (Dem.) of Georgia, of the Senate foreign relations committee, said he favored a plan under which the government could take over plants which because of strikes failed to supply defense articles. Senator Con-

COUNT PAL TELEKI, HUNGARIAN PREMIER, DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

DECLARED SUICIDE; HUNGARIAN CABINET RESIGNS AS RESULT OF DEATH

BUDAPEST, Hungary, April 3.—(AP)—Count Pal Teleki, 62-year-old premier of Hungary, died unexpectedly in the night and hours later the mystery of his death was partly clarified by an official Hungarian news agency dispatch which said he committed suicide.

The agency said the manner of his death was determined by physicians who examined his body. No explanation was immediately forthcoming. Friends said the premier took poison.

The Hungarian government was said to have resigned as a result of Teleki's death.

The foreign office at first said the premier's death resulted from a heart ailment and denied first reports by friends that Count Teleki had taken his own life. Earlier dispatches also had said the count's wife died an hour before her husband but the foreign office said she was still alive, although very ill, at a sanatorium.

Ferenc Keresztes - Fischer, minister of the interior and head of the police and gendarmerie, became acting premier.

Count Teleki visited his wife's sickroom late last night, then returned home, where he was found dead in bed by his servants this morning, the foreign office statement asserted.

Teleki was chief of one of Hungary's great landed families and often was regarded as regent admiral of Horthy's right hand man, remaining in the cabinet largely to circumvent complete German domination.

The premier personally was known as pro-English rather than pro-German but sought to maintain the appearance of neutral

Four American Planes Equal To Messerschmitts

DOWNEY, Calif., April 3.—(AP)—Vultee Aircraft Corp., engineers took a quick look at a German Messerschmitt 110 and reported today:

At least four American made fighter planes are equal to, and in some respects superior to, the famed Nazi craft.

The Messerschmitt, shot down in Britain, was received at the Vultee plant yesterday for detailed study.

William G. Wilson, Vultee traffic manager, reported after a preliminary study:

"Fighter planes produced by Vultee, Wright, Lockheed and Curtis are as good as the Messerschmitt in construction, and in general our instruments are finer, more reliable and more versatile."

He said that if there is any lesson to be learned from the

WITHDRAWAL FASCIST NAVAL ATTACHE AT WASHINGTON ASKED

ALLEGED CONNECTION WITH SABOTAGE OF ITALIAN SHIPS GIVEN AS CAUSE

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—The United States today demanded the immediate recall of the Italian naval attache in Washington, Admiral Alberto Lais, on the grounds that he was connected with the sabottaging of Italian merchant ships in this country.

Secretary of State Hull sent a note to this effect to the Italian ambassador, Prince Colonna, on orders of President Roosevelt.

The note, made public by the state department, declared that Admiral Lais was "persona non grata to this government as naval attache of the royal Italian embassy at Washington," and requested "that your excellency's government withdraw him immediately from the United States."

The note said the action was taken because of "various facts and circumstances" which had come to the attention of this government "connecting" Admiral Lais "with the commission by certain persons of acts in violation of the laws of the United States."

President Roosevelt, the note said, had decided that the continued presence of Admiral Lais "would no longer be agreeable to this government."

Hull Is Reticent.

Secretary Hull in releasing the note at his press conference said he could not take up at this time the question of whether similar action might be taken against any German officials in this country.

It was recalled that the captain of an Italian ship seized last weekend in Texas was quoted by officials as saying that he had orders from the Italian naval attache in Washington to destroy his engines.

Two German and twenty-eight Italian merchant vessels have been taken into custody in American harbors and only yesterday the state department said it had received new and vigorous protests from the axis powers.

Today, Secretary Morgenthau said he and Attorney General Jackson were "studying" possible action to forfeit these ships to the United States.

Although each embassy has sent two notes demanding release of the ships and crews, the United States has not yet made a formal reply.

Officials, however, have indicat-

GERMAN WARSHIPS IN ATLANTIC SINK MERCHANT SHIPPING

HIGH COMMAND ALSO SAYS NEW GERMAN-ITALIAN SUCCESSES NORTH AFRICA

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—German battleships and submarines operating in the Atlantic sank 367,800 tons of merchant vessels from March 16 to 23, informed circles reported today, in one of the heaviest series of blows yet claimed against British shipping.

Coupled with this report, the high command announced that German and Italian troops had scored new land successes in North Africa with the recapture of Agedabia, in northwestern Libya, and a drive to Zuetina on the Mediterranean coast.

German planes were declared to have sunk two armed merchant ships totalling 16,000 tons out of a strongly protected convoy south of Crete, in the Mediterranean.

In addition, the high command announced, two ships of 4,000 tons were sunk and six others "so severely damaged that their loss is apparent" in waters around the British Isles.

A lone German combat plane was said to have destroyed three British planes and damaged several others in a raid on an airport in southern England. Other attacks were made on ports and industrial facilities in southern England and Scotland.

A special high command communique today said German and Italian troops had recaptured Agedabia in northeastern Libya and reached Zuetina in pursuit of rapidly retreating British forces.

"The foe is on a hasty retreat northward," the communique said, adding that a number of prisoners had been taken along with a "considerable amount of booty, including armored and unarmored motor vehicles.

"Our own losses were extremely small," the high command announced.

(Zuetina is about 80 miles south of Bengazi on the Gulf of Sidra. Agedabia is about 10

AXIS THREATS OF WHAT JAPAN WILL DO TO UNITED STATES ARE GROWING MORE HOLLOW DAILY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

There was a time not so long ago when there was an authoritative ring to the axis threats—such as that flung out yesterday by Rome—of what Japan would do to the United States if we didn't stop helping Britain in the war.

Axis stock has had a considerable setback recently, however, and by the time a fresh warning has traveled down through the Brenner Pass to Rome for broadcasting, it has a very hollow sound. Indeed, the one issued yesterday on the eve of Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka's departure from the eternal city for Berlin and Rome, was very reminiscent of tub thumping.

Signor Virginio Gayda, Roman writer who relays pronouncements from Olympus, stated that Messrs. Hitlers and Mussolini had reached agreements with Matsuoka on Japan's action in event Uncle Sam engages in hostilities against the axis powers, even if there is no formal declaration war. The weakness of that statement lies in the fact that we aren't told what the agreements are, and Mr. Matsuoka has thrown no light on the subject. They may have agreed to disagree.

Indeed, it would be surprising to learn that Mr. Matsuoka had given the axis partners any encouragement that his country would accede to their demands and enter the war actively against Britain in the Far East. This scheme, of course, contemplates involvement of the United States in the Orient.

Indications are that the Japanese are sheering from further entanglement with Britain, and most certainly with the United States. Italy's military and naval disasters, which have all but knocked her out of the war as a striking force, and Germany's knock in the Balkans, have set Tokyo back on the road of caution.

Because of her weak economic position and her dependence on us for essential supplies, Japan can't afford to break with America at this juncture. And Toyko

CLOSING MAGNOLIA REFINERY FORMALLY ANNOUNCED TUESDAY

OPERATIONS EXPECTED TO BE DISCONTINUED ABOUT MIDDLE OF SUMMER

Formal announcement of the impending discontinuance of operations at the Corsicana refinery of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, first such plant constructed west of the Mississippi River, has been made by D. A. Little, president of the company and a native of Navarro County, in a letter to Joe E. Butler, president of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

No definite date has been set for the closing of the plant but information from reliable sources indicate operation will probably be continued until about the middle of the year, depending mainly upon the completion of the expansion program at the Fort Worth refinery which is now well under way.

The text of the letter follows:

"Conditions over which we have no control make it necessary to discontinue the operation of our refinery at Corsicana. Our regret is sincere that this course is necessary and you may be sure our decision was not a hurried one. We have waited until reasons both economic and geographical combined to make the decision an absolute necessity.

Changed Combinations.

"For a period of years we have taken substantial losses in the operation of our plant in Corsicana, but because of its historic background and the many happy memories of our years of mutually pleasant association that are ours and yours, we have continued its operations just as long as we could. Changed conditions beyond our control and yours make inevitable adjustments which otherwise would not be made.

"The passing of time lays a marked levy upon machinery, upon plans, upon programs of work. The necessity for new processes and new equipment takes a heavy toll in expenditures that can only be justified by reasonable returns. The replacing of obsolete machinery and the keeping of a plant even abreast of changing times requires large and continuing investments of capital. We believe you will understand and appreciate our position and will accord us the credit of having continued the operations of our plant even beyond the time when good business might have suggested its earlier closing.

"The decision has been a difficult one to make. For more than forty-two years this refinery has been in operation and we would have much preferred to have continued it had it been possible. We are not unmindful of the fact that this plant in Corsicana is the continuation of the first refinery built in Texas and in the Southwest. For more than four decades it has been glad to share in the industrial life of Corsicana and of Texas. Many of those who are active in the petroleum industry today received their initial training and experience in Corsicana.

"Magnolia is not moving away from Corsicana but will continue the operation of the Pipe Line Company's properties which are now being expanded by the construction of a well equipped machine shop, to which a number of the present refinery employees will be transferred. Others will be assigned to duties at the Fort Worth plant, some will be employed elsewhere, and a few will be retired on their well earned and merited annuity for life.

Officials Regret Move.

"The regret we feel is shared by Mr. E. R. Brown, chairman of the board, who pioneered in the construction and operation of the Corsicana refinery, and by many other officials and employees of the company who first became associated with the petroleum industry at Corsicana. Certainly my own regret is a very personal one for Corsicana will always be home to me.

"The co-operation, the good will and helpfulness that has been extended to us over the more than four decades of our association with your good people in Corsicana is deeply appreciated. Your neighborly spirit has meant much to us and we ask and hope for your continued confidence, with our assurance that we will always strive to merit in the years ahead your continuing friendship. The confidence and understanding co-operation of its friends, its customers and the public at large is the most valuable asset any company can have.

"This letter is prompted by the feeling that you, as President of the Chamber of Commerce of Corsicana, and representing in this capacity your entire citizenship, are entitled to know the reasons that made necessary the discontinuing of our refinery. These facts will place you in better position to explain to others who might inquire the reasons for our decision.

"With every good wish for you, for your Chamber of Commerce and for all your splendid citizens, believe me.

Sincerely Yours,
D. A. LITTLE.

RUSSIAN NUNS, HUNGRY, STILL CARE FOR ASCENSION CHURCH*

Site of Departure of Jesus from Earth Is Sacred Shrine Which Band of Faithful Women Still Preserve—Relation of Place Facts to Spiritual Experience.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

There is a lot of vague thinking being done today upon the vital subject of religion. Most of it is not anchored to definite historical facts. Many otherwise intelligent persons assume that spirituality is a mere mood, a hazy mental conception! and that God is whatever one thinks Him to be.

In a time when clear conceptions of Christianity are essential to the salvaging of civilization, it is important to remember that our faith is not a mere matter of speculation. It is based on real revelations, in a real place and time, and by a real Person. My many travels in all Bible Lands, and my study of the marvellous confirmatory "finds" of archaeology, have given me an unshakable sense of the actuality of the facts and persons of the Book's story.

May I here repeat a conversation I had, on my latest visit to Jerusalem, with a famous archaeologist, whose work is to survey the whole field of archaeological research? I asked him if there had been any evidence dug up that contradicts the Scriptural narrative.

"Not a single fact," he replied earnestly; adding, "On the other hand, the supporting evidence in confirmation is steadily increasing." The scholars' spades attest the pens of the Bible's writers.

To the Clouds, From Solid Earth.

This remarkable testimony, which should lodge permanently in the reader's mind, is introduced here because our present Lesson links a geographical site with one of the most awesome spiritual phenomena in the Biblical record. The ascension of Jesus into the clouds was from the solid earth. The record particularizes the site—the height of the Mount of Olives, the hill outside the eastern wall of Jerusalem.

To Olivet Jesus was accustomed to resort for prayer. On its eastern slope was the home of Martha and Mary, where He was often a guest. Beneath the black shadows of a grove of olive trees, Jesus underwent His Gethsemane. The place of trial was thus the scene of ultimate triumph.

Originally built by the Crusaders, an old Russian church, with a very high tower, marks the traditional site of the ascension. From its top one has the grandest view in all Palestine. Today, that church is linked with the tragedy of Russia; for their are no more Russian pilgrims, and the church's investments in Russia have all been confiscated. The faithful nuns who maintain the church and keep it in good condition, are growing old, and there are no recruits. Actual hunger is often present with them; never do they have more than barest sustenance. If ever there was a band of consecrated women, it is these who minister to the memorial of their Lord's ascension; and pray for His promised return.

Not the Last Act of Drama.

It is Dr. Luke, the meticulous historian, who tells the Story that is the Lesson which millions will study. He had written one book, the Gospel that bears his name, to record the earthly life of Jesus. Significantly, he says in the opening words of this second book, the Acts, that his Gospel was the record of "all that Jesus began both to do and to teach." Thus the ascended Lord is linked with the minstering Jesus. The earthly life was only a beginning. Now Luke swept into the continuing drama. The crucifixion and death and resurrection had not been the last acts of the Savior's life.

At once the author plunges us into the most vital truth of our religion. Jesus Christ still lives and labors. It is not a dead body on a cross that we worship, but a present, active, all-powerful, ministering Lord, concerned with everything that concerns His kingdom. We would not part with one iota of the many facts about the ministering Master; yet for today our hope is in the living Lord, who cares for the world's present agony, and who would impart peace and power to every present disciple.

Once, years ago, when German higher criticism was doing its utmost to discredit Christ, a great company of Christians gathered in an open square in Berlin and shouted, over and over again, "Jesus lives! Jesus lives!" A far cry from that to the present tumults of "Heil Hitler!" It is that element in Germany which has denied her Lord that is now menacing civilization everywhere. There is no menace to anybody in a people who love the living Christ.

Fit for the Task.

Ere He ascended out of their sight, Christ gave His friends their final instructions and assurance. His earthly life was completed. Now the continuance of His work depended upon this small company of disciples. They were commissioned to be His witnesses, not only in Jerusalem and Judea and Samaria, but unto the uttermost parts of the earth. Such was the imperialism of the Christian program.

To be fit for this heroic and unprecedented task, the friends of Jesus would need more than mortal power. So the Master bade them tarry in Jerusalem until this equipment should be given them. The ten days of waiting before Pentecost befell must have been a testing time for the disciples. human nature is irked by the delays entailed by preparation.

In this last talk, some of the impatient ones inquired concerning the time of the restoration of the kingdom. Their number is legion today; and the admonition of the ascending Lord is still to be borne in mind: "It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father has set within His own authority."

So that engrossing subject was dismissed, as Jesus proceeded to talk of the more important theme of the Power that should be given to the disciples for the fulfilment of their all-engrossing task. For spiritually equiped. Today this sublime historical fact confronts us: There is a supernatural Spirit, who stands instead of the Savior Himself, to enable every witness, every parent, every preacher, every writer, every teacher, to carry on the work begun by the ministering Master when He was on earth.

As Dr. Moffatt says, religion is not a form but a force. It is something vital, real and all alive. The risen Christ bequeathed present power to His friends of all the ages. The Christian conquest, over self, over circumstances, over evil, is based, not upon the native skill or equipment of learning of the disciples, but upon the Power bequeathed by the ascending Savior. "Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord." That is the battle-cry for the supreme struggle upon which the Church is today entering.

* The Sunday School Lesson for April 6 is, "Christ Promises Power."—Luke 24: 48, 49; Acts I.

STRIKES

terials. President Francis H. Fenn said grinding machinist operators of the Spicer Manufacturing company at Hillsdale, Mich., were striking.

Work still was curtailed at the American Car and Foundry company at Buffalo, N. Y., by striking CIO workers. An AFL union which also went on strike at the plant yesterday agreed to go back to work.

Clerks and maintenance workers had been called back to the Ford Rouge plant this morning after a federal mediator announced "a plan has been evolved for settlement" of the strike.

Production at Standstill.

Production, however, remained at a standstill while negotiations continued. James F. Dewey, federal mediator, did not announce any details of his settlement plan.

While conciliation experts wrestled with the Ford strike and sought on another front to re-open the Appalachian soft coal mines, the long drawn out Allis-Chalmers strike was turned over to the national defense mediation board.

In certifying it to the board, Labor Secretary Perkins said the good offices of the U. S. conciliation service would be made available in the case.

Michigan state police patrolled the vicinity of the Ford plant near Detroit after intermittent violence yesterday, first day of the CIO-called strike. More than a score of strikes and workers were injured in hand-to-hand battling during the day.

Issues in Strike.

The CIO United Automobile Workers union said the issues in the strike included a 10-cent an hour wage increase, reinstatement of workers discharged for union affiliation, "abolition of the Ford spy system," establishment of a seniority system, and a shop steward system.

A Ford company statement said the strike resulted from "a gigantic communistic conspiracy to paralyze the industrial life of our nation."

In the Allis-Chalmers case, the mediation board took jurisdiction in a 10-weeks old dispute which has held up production of $45,000,000 worth of national defense orders, including machinery urgently needed for powder making. Following rioting Tuesday, incident to a back-to-work movement, the plant at West Allis, Wis., was closed upon order of Governor Julius P. Heil. CIO employes are demanding a union shop and wage increases.

Soft coal operators and CIO-United Mine Workers who are negotiating at New York on a new contract recessed for rest early today reporting that "some progress" had been made and that the conferences would continue.

When the old labor contract ran out Monday midnight, most of the bituminous mines in the nation shut down. John Steelman, federal conciliator, had predicted that a satisfactory agreement could be worked out by midnight tonight.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, yesterday opposed turning over the dispute to the National Mediation Board. He expressed distaste for what he said was the board's "formula" — wiring the strikers to go back, bust their strike, then have them come to Washington to mediate for the remains of it."

The coal mining stoppage affects about 400,000 men and three quarters of the nation's bituminous production. The union has asked $1 a day wage increases, paid vacations, and a guarantee of 200 dys work a year.

Soft Coal Prices Frozen.

"To prevent runaway or excessive prices," due to the shutdown, Leon Henderson, defense price stabilization commissioner, yesterday ordered soft coal prices frozen at the March 28 level.

Four men were killed and five were wounded in an outbreak of violence accompanying the mine shutdown in Harlan county, Kentucky. Other shots were fired in the West Virginia coal country but no one was wounded.

Other labor developments:

Washington — Mediation board announced that company and AFL representatives had signed an agreement for continuing production at International Harvester plants in Chicago, but that CIO representatives had not signed. Union recognition was the strike issue.

New York — Threatened tug boat strike averted by agreement raising wages.

Buffalo, N. Y.—One-day work stoppage ended at American Car and Foundry plant where shells are being made for Britain. Some wages were raised.

Bayway, N. J.—1,500 employes of Phelps-Dodge Copper Corp., voting today on strike call. Ask union shop and other concessions.

PREVIEWING TEXAS DOGWOOD TRAILS AT PALESTINE

As white dogwood blossoms turned East Texas woodlands into a fairyland of beauty, Palestine people and visitors from nearby towns took trips along Palestine's famous Dogwood Trails to preview the scene. Above picture shows a group on the Davey Lake Trail, along which thousands are expected to drive from April 5 through April 13. The trail winds through timber in which giant dogwood trees blossom by the thousands. Inset shows close-up of dogwood blossom.

Foundation Laid For Strike Mediation

DETROIT, April 3.—(AP)—Governor Murray D. Van Wagner announced today that "the foundation has been laid for successful mediation" of the strike that has closed the giant Ford Motor Company's Rouge plant, largest single factory unit in the world.

"Both the company and union officials have made definite and binding commitments to me to meet certain basic requirements for mediation," the governor declared in a formal press statement.

The governor's statement was made as operations at the great Ford Rouge plant, employing more than 85,000 hourly rated workers were at a standstill and after renewed but isolated outbreaks of fighting occurred near the mile long factory in suburban Dearborn.

Coincident with the governor's announcement, James F. Dewey, United States Conciliation service representative, left his downtown hotel headquarters for a personal inspection of the situation at the factory. He said he hoped to meet with Ford officials and get a start on the conference which was postponed this morning after renewed fighting, in which a time keeper seeking to enter the plant gates was severely beaten, one man reported a knife wound in the abdomen and other clashes occurred.

May Affect Dallas Plant.

DALLAS, April 3.—(AP)—Production at the Ford Motor company's Dallas assembly plant probably will be slashed in volume and may be shut down completely because of the River Rouge plant strike in Detroit, it was indicated here today.

Charles B. Ostrander, plant manager, said that he would not know definitely the extent to which the strike had curtailed the flow of materials to Dallas until tomorrow "when we check a shipment slated to arrive then."

Sufficient materials for final assembly are on hand now for continued operations for a short time, according to Ostrander.

Fighting Occurs Near Ford Plant.

DETROIT, April 3.—(AP)—Violent but isolated outbreaks of fighting occurred near the strike-closed Ford Motor company plant this morning and Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner announced that resumption of mediation conferences with CIO and company officials had been postponed.

Four negroes in an automobile were beaten severely by union pickets who chased them nearly a mile from the main plant gate, and three of the pickets were struck down as a car following the negroes' machine ploughed through the fighting group at a speed which witnesses estimated at 40 miles an hour.

Unauthorized Strikes Ended.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3.—(AP)—Bryce Holcombe, commissioner of conciliation for the labor department, this afternoon announced that an unauthorized strike of 411 portable and hoisting engineers at Camp Polk, La., had been ordered ended at once by the International Union.

Holcombe said he consulted the International Union at once upon hearing of the stoppage of work at the camp, being prepared for the Third Armored Division, and that the union said the walkout was unauthorized and ordered the strikers back to work immediately.

YUGOSLAVIA

hours after their troops crossed the Yugoslav frontier.

Whether the Yugoslav general staff would elect to defend the capital in event of an attempted invasion remained a military secret. Yugoslav warplanes circle over the city constantly, however.

German quarters declared frankly that recall of the legation staff to Berlin "carries grave implications of the inevitability of war breaking out soon."

Italians Preparing to Leave.

As news that the German diplomats were leaving spread, envoys of other nations hastened to their offices to keep in close touch with the rapidly developing situation.

Officials of the Italian legation said preparations for evacuation of the staff already had been made, but declared no orders to leave the country had been received from Rome.

A fascist spokesman expressed belief that despite the gravity of the situation "war is not inevitable," and said the Italians still were "seeking some basis on which to establish contact between the Italian and Yugoslav governments."

The Yugoslav army of 1,200,000 men, meanwhile, was being held ready for any emergency and it appeared that the nation would stand solidly behind the government should war come.

Gayda Hints That Yugoslavia Is Next

ROME, April 2.—(AP)—Virginio Gayda, leading fascist editorial spokesman, declared today that Germany and Italy no longer feel bound to respect Yugoslavia's territorial integrity and political independence as guaranteed when the former Belgrade regime signed the axis pact.

In his first comment on the Yugoslav situation, Gayda wrote in It Giornale D'Italia:

"By a single gesture the authors of the Belgrade coup d'etat not only deliberately renounced all these positions they acquired, but also adopted a violently hostile attitude toward the axis powers, to whom they seek to want to restore complete liberty of action for defense by freeing them of every obligation."

The new government's position Gayda said, must be "speedily and completely clarified."

Then he demanded:

"What authority and credibility could a state have when the signature of a solemn international agreement, executed by a representative and legally constituted government, arbitrarily is renounced the next day with a coup d'etat which kicks out the signing ministers and creates a new regime with a policy openly opposed to that expressed in a signed document?"

The next few months, he said, will show whether Yugoslavia "has calculated wisely in her own interests."

Croat Leader Joins Government.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 3.—(AP)—Vladimir Macek, Croatian peasant party leader, announced today he is entering the new government thereby making Yugoslavia a united nation in face of threatened war with Germany. Macek had withheld formal acceptance of appointment as vice premier.

Three Noteworthy Facts.

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—Official Germans found three noteworthy facts in the Yugoslav situation today, namely:

1—The present Yugoslav government, in the German view, keeps the people in darkness concerning far-reaching serious effects of the coup d'etat.

2—Yugoslavia's diplomats overseas and even a certain mission in European capitals are engaged in anti-German activity.

3—The new government tolerates continuous interference by overseas and European powers non-indigenous (Raumfremd) to the Balkans, both with affairs of the Balkans in general and Yugoslavia in particular.

German Press Propaganda.

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—Charges that Yugoslavia had aggressive designs on Austria began appearing in the German press today as relations between Berlin and Belgrade continued tense and in many respects unclear.

Similarity to the situation in the dark days of the Polish crisis of 1939 was remarked by observers.

Then, the reported comment by certain Polish generals that German eastern territory would be occupied swiftly caused a stir in Germany.

Authorized comment on the Yugoslav situation remained guarded, but it became clearer that Germany was particularly irritated by what it was charged was the way Yugoslavia was tolerating foreign influence in her policies. This was held to be entirely incompatible with adherence to the three-power pact to which the Belgrade government is being held.

SHIPS

ed that the replies would be outright rejection.

The government's action in asking the recall of the Italian naval attache followed precedents set prior to the United States' entrance into the World War and when it forced Germany to recall its naval attache here and also a member of the embassy staff, Franx von Papen, who is now German ambassador to Turkey.

Morgenthau, in his first press conferences since the ships were taken into custody, declined to discuss the problems of forfeiture, and referred reporters to the attorney general.

The 1917 law under which the axis ships were seized because of sabotage by the crews also provides that the government may ask forfeiture of the ships as a penalty for such sabotage.

Asked whether he had any information that sabotage of the ships was ordered by any diplomatic representatives of the axis in this country, the secretary said, "the facts speak for themselves."

New and more vigorious protests against the seizures came yesterday from the axis powers.

Asked whether the ships of any other nation might be taken into custody, Morgenthau replied that no advance notice of such action could be given, if it were contemplated. The secretary added that the coast guard, which is a treasury unit, had received letters of commendation from many officials of this government for the way in which it conducted the ship seizures.

New Seizure Protests.

The new protests—the second since the "protective" seizure of thirty axis merchantmen last week end—may cause some delay in the formal reply being prepared by the state department, it was said, but will not alter this government's position that its action was fully justified.

Hemisphere waters, meanwhile, became the grave of two more German vessels, raising the total of axis shipping losses to thirteen for the last four days.

The two Nazi vessels which fled Callao, Peru, on Monday without sailing papers were located in flames 200 miles at sea. There were no lifeboats left on the sinking hulks and no trace of their crews. It was uncertain whether the ships had been fired and abandoned, or whether they had fallen prey to an armed Canadian auxiliary known to be operating in the vicinity.

Farther south on the western coast of South America another German freighter put to sea from Talcahuano, Chili, but she carried so little fuel that maritime circles wondered what her intentions were. Three other Nazi ships in Chilean ports also made ready to leave.

Venezuela Protests.

As an ever larger number of axis merchantmen were affected by the new "protective" seizure policy, not all the diplomatic notes were originating in Rome or Berlin. The government of Venezuela lodged strong protests with axis envoys at Caracas last night because of the burning and scuttling of four German and Italian ships in Venezuelan waters.

Venezuela termed the sabotage "deliberate," a "scandalous" violation of hospitality, and "a premeditated crime which is punishable by our laws."

Meanwhile, Mexican authorities reported that they had thwarted a plot last night to add nine more vessels to the toll of axis shipping destroyed in hemisphere waters since Sunday. The vessels were taken over by authorities Tuesday, but their German and Italian crews were permitted to remain on board.

The plan, officials said, was to destroy the ships some time during the night. The officers were lured ashore by a ruse and immediately arrested. Then the crews were removed and placed in custody. German seamen on one ship resisted, but were overpowered by armed marines. A TNT bomb was reported found in the exhaust pipe of one tanker.

GERMAN

miles south of Zeutina and 80 miles northeast of Agheila. The British abandoned the latter town several days ago.)

Germany Bides Time.

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—Germany won't make her attitude regarding ship seizures in Central and South America known until the "attatude and measures" concerning United States ship seinzures have been made public, authorized sources said today.

"Everybody in his turn," they added. "We Germans love order even when it comes to unpleasant things."

The seizures as such again were branded as contrary to international law.

Nazi Official Going to Japan.

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—Dr. Helmuth Wohlthat, Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's right hand man in foreign exchange operations and overseas and other foreign business deals, is scheduled to leave shortly for Japan as head of a German economic delegation charged with bringing economic arrangements between Germany and Japan into line with the necessities of the tripartite pact.

CORSICANA, TEX., APR. 4, 1941

DEPORTATION DILEMMA.

Deportation of dangerous aliens has a pleasing sound. The people of the United States have a special fondness for the idea of sending undesirable people "back where they came from." Furthermore, no good American likes the idea of concentration camps.

These facts create an odd problem. Mostly the country from which these aliens came either cannot or will not issue passports for their re-entry. More than 6,000 of the 8,000 aliens who have already been ordered deported cannot be removed. They are free to roam the country at will despite the fact that some of them are criminals or suspected agents of unfriendly governments.

Attorney General Jackson has asked Congress to amend present laws and permit confinement of the more dangerous until it is possible to remove them from the American scene. He urges enactment of reasonable safeguards to protect the innocent and unfortunate. Persons held on merely technical charges, for example, ought to be parolled quickly. But he suggests it is time to consider whether membership in such organizations as the German-American Bund, the Communist Party and others should not be made unlawful.

No doubt some action is needed. And it should be possible to protect the nation without hysterical acts which would be unfair to the friendly and honest majority of aliens.

VILLAGE SAFETY EXAMPLE.

A small town which has several important highways running through it is justly proud of the fact that no child has been killed in traffic there in the last 20 years. It is Parma, O.

The chief of police and the school superintendent cite a number of reasons for the town's distinction. In the first place, all school children are taken to street crossings by a friendly cop and taught how to use them correctly. Such demonstration trips are usually made in the spring, and they get results.

Another part of the program is a definite effort to keep baseball games in vacant lots and out of the streets. That has saved lives, too.

Bicycle riding, practiced by more than 1,500 boys and girls regularly, has its own traffic code. The youthful riders must pay 25 cents for a license. A summary of the code goes with the license, and youngsters who do not obey it have their bikes taken away from them for a certain length of time. In this matter, too, the cops demonstrate good traffic observance. They take the kids on a cycling tour once a year and see to it that everybody knows the right way to ride in traffic.

There are also class room lessons and movies emphasizing safety. And there is the fine example of the school bus drivers who have driven more than 1,000,000 miles without a serious accident.

These are times when every person with any skill should use it, and everybody else should learn one.

Beware of Nazis bearing gifts and don't let Hitler get his foot in the door.

RESEMBLANCE

I think it's this way: must be so,
'Tis in His image here we grow
An din our conduct all can see
The God we've struggled like to be.
The God we worship here survives
Reflected in our daily lives.

I think it's this way: God is part
Of every human mind and heart,
And not in Heaven's remotest spot,
Is worshiped there or quite forgot,
Is seen, though little understood,
In every motive that is good.

I think it's this way: All men grow
God's image by the love they show,
That neither hymn, nor prayer, nor creed
Proves God so wel las simple deed.
That in our characters men see
Just what we think God must be.

AMERICAN TRACK MEN

Track and field sports afford an interesting view of today's boys in high school and college. Many more young fellows than ever before take part in such events, and the statistics show that they gain yearly in the technique of running jumping, vaulting and hurling missiles. Nearly every college track team, for example, has one or more men who can equal or better the feat of running a mile in four minutes and 20 seconds. A generation ago such a runner was rare. High school pole vaulters regularly sail through the air at a height formerly considered impossible for any but exceptional athletes. It is the same story with other track events.

Perhaps this is all the result of the general consumption of vitamins. Perhaps it comes from the study and teaching of special technique for varied athletic activities. Certainly it isn't a matter of racial prowess. A few of the names entered for an early track and field meet in Chicago offer an impressive sample of the whole. They are Rice, Kane, Cochran, Mehl, Munski, Venzki, Olson, Wolcott and Herbert. American athletes of great prowess represent many different racial origins.

CANNED BEEF.

If Uncle Sam is to get ahead with solidarity in this hemisphere, something rational will have to be done about canned beef. That problem is needlessly interfering again with the harmony that should exist between the two leading nations of North and South America.

The United States Senate, acting not on a basis of present facts, but apparently from habit, has been opposing again the importation of Argentine beef in the United States. There was a time when such procedure was reasonable, because it would have hurt our own cattle and packing industries. But that time is past. Experts say there is now a shortage of beef in this country, and cattle interests themselves are said to be now offering no objection to such imports.

IRISH HELP.

If it is true that Eire, or the Irish Free State as we formerly called it, is willing to lease naval bases to the United States in return for food and weapons, one of the toughest problems of the present war may be solved. It would then be a neat piece of lease-lending to turn the lease over to Britain. Thus the harassed Britons would have again harbors and supply bases from which they could defend their Atlantic shipping in its most vulnerable area.

If this were done, columnist Jay Franklin suggests, Portugal would be inclined to offer Britain or America similar facilities in the Azores, which are important Atlantic stepping-stones west of Spain. It would be easy to provide compensation for that. Then, with a base already established in Bermuda, the whole Atlantic situation would be simplified for whatever operations needed to be undertaken.

The Nazi propaganda mill grinds away as hard as ever, but the rest of the world doesn't listen much now.

It will do Britain no good to win Africa if she loses the Atlantic.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary!

Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI.

Main way it helps relieve peribdic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI more than 50 years.

DOGWOOD TRAILS TO BE OBSERVED THIS SATURDAY, SUNDAY

PALESTINE, April 2.—(Spl.)—Signs are being put up to mark Texas Dogwood Trails at Palestine as this little East Texas city made ready to welcome thousands Saturday and Sunday when the trails will be opened for this year's season.

Warm sunshine brought out dogwood blossoms as workmen did last-minute work on woodland trails and county and city road machinery smoothed country roads over which visitors will drive. Open house receptions received the attention of their sponsors. Every preparation will be made when the first visitors arrive, trails officials said.

Meanwhile, scores of people from all parts of Texas are already arriving in Palestine to view dogwood. The trails have not been open to visitors, however, and early-comers have been routed over highways to the best scenery possible.

Dogwood Trails visitors this year will be routed through stands of hardwood timber to thickets of native dogwood. They will be welcomed at receptions at the home of the late Governor Tom M. Campbell, the lodge of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McCain, and at the Meadowbrook Country Club. No formal program is arranged, however, and visitors are free to drive over the trails at their leisure, stop as long as they like at receptions or along the trails. Picnic tables are provided in woodlands along the route.

OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD AT LOCAL CCC CAMP ON APRIL 6TH

TO OBSERVE EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY OF CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS

Plans have been completed for holding open house at the Soil Conservation Service CCC Camp near Corsicana in observance of the eight anniversary of the establishment of the civilian conservation corps, according to Camp Superintendent R. C. Jernigin.

A large number of persons are expected to make the tour which will start from the camp at 2 p. m. o'clock on April 6th, and will require about two hours. The party will visit the farms of C. C. Roberts, Dr. W. W. Carter, H. E. Fluker, Mrs. Martha B. Brown, Mrs. Dill and C. L. Jester.

The importance of the CCC in conserving the nation's agriculture lands, in training youth, and generally in strengthening the defense of the nation is stressed in a statement by Dr. H. H. Bennett, Washington, D. C., chief of the soil conservation service.

"Possibly this generation will never fully appreciate what the CCC is doing to build the internal strength of America," Dr. Bennett declared in discussing the CCC anniversary. "So many things of immediate magnitude are taking place every day that we are likely to overlook some of the long-time gains being made. But the CCC is making history, and as history is written in the future, it will record that in the 1930's and 1940's the CCC made an invaluable contribution to the conservation of America's most vital natural resource—its soil.

Cannot Be Over Estimated.

"I doubt seriously whether the importance of the CCC's contribution to soil conservation in the United States can be over-evaluated," Dr. Bennett continued. "Working under the direct supervision of soil conservation service technicians in camp areas throughout the country, CCC enrollees have been the front-line troops in the war on erosion. By providing the essential labor, they have provided added momentum to the conservation movement which today is reaching into the farming hills and valleys of the nation—more extensively and more intensively than ever before."

Enrollees of the Corsicana CCC Camp are assisting 260 farmers to establish complete and co-ordinated conservation farming system on 53,000 acres.

Erosion control practice which the CCC enrollees and technicians of the soil conservation service are assisting farmers to establish include such practices as contour cultivation, strip, crops, terraces, contour furrowing of pastures, woodland management, reforrestation for the control of soil erosion, crop rotations, the use of summer and winter cover crops to improve the soil, and the conservation of wildlife. These practices will be observed and explained in connection with the anniversary open house program. In the Western Gulf Region of the soil conservation service which covers most of Texas and Oklahoma and all of Arkansas and Louisiana, there are seventy-two soil conservation service CCC Camps. There are twelve camps in Arkansas, sixteen in Louisiana, twenty-one in Oklahoma, and twenty-three in Texas. The five drainage camps in the region are in Louisiana.

Many Thousands Aided.

In this region, according to Louis P. Morrill of Fort Worth, regional conservator of the soil conservation service, approximately 16,000 farmers and ranchers are being assisted by the CCC camps in the control of erosion and the conservation of moisture or more than two and one-half million acres. According to Merrill, enrollees in Texas have worked a total of 4,395,341 man-days since the first CCC camp was established in this state. Some of the accomplishments cited for Texas include:

The construction 3,054,131 rods of fence to assist farmers in making the land use adjustments necessary for erosion control and moisture conservation; the sloping of 5,504,594 square yards of banks for the control of gullies; the building of 5,948 permanent check dams and 39,254 temporary check dams for the control of gullies; the seeding or sodding of 12,040,470 square yards in order to stablize gullied areas with vegetation; the planting of trees on 968,502 square yards; the construction of 5,747 miles of terraces; the construction of 188,288 linear feet of channel necessary for the safe removal of excess water from terraced fields; the planting or sodding of 8,829,913 square yards of terraced outlets; the planting of 50,165 acres for the control of sheet erosion; the construction of 33,878 miles of contour furrows or ridges for the control of erosion and the conservation of moisture on pasture lands; and the excavation of 37,243 cubic yards of channels and canals.

The regional conservator explained that these are only a few of the many practices which CCC enrollees have assisted farmers to establish. He explained that the various practices are co-ordinated to treat each area of each farm according to the needs and capabilities of the land and the requirements of the owner or operator. The enrollees have spent 211,270 man-days in survey work under the direction of technical personel of the soil conservation service. Those conservation surveys paved the way for conservation farm planning and the establishment of conservation measures.

U. S. NAVAL CONVOY FOR BRITISH SUPPLY SHIPS HELD ABSURD

OPPONENT CONVOY SYSTEM, HOWEVER, NOT SATISFIED WITH ROOSEVELT REMARK

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, a well informed legislator said today, was told congressional leaders that suggestions for using the navy to convoy supplies abroad were "to absurd to talk about" at this time.

On Capitol Hill, however, opponents of the convoy idea showed reluctance to accept this as the final word and one of them said he had information that the question of convoying ships as far as Iceland was under consideration.

Several Republicans said they had voted against the Senate's taking a ten-day Easter recess with the House because they were afraid that some action involving convoys might develop during their absence.

Senator Tobey (Rep.) of New Hampshire, has a resolution pending which would prohibit the use of the U. S. navy vessels for convoy duty and is seeking to force action on it by the Senate foreign relations committee.

President Roosevelt's comment on the convoy question was reported to have been made during his conference with congressional leaders this week. He was asked a direct question, the legislator said, regarding the possibility of convoys to assure delivery of American lease-lend military equipment to ports in the European war zone.

Too Absurd to Consider.

The President, it was said, dismissed the matter brusquely with the remark that it was "to absurd" to consider at the moment.

Chairman George (Dem.) of Georgia, of the Senate foreign relations committee said he had heard nothing to indicate that the administration was thinking of inaugurating convoys, and he predicted that the President would not act without consulting Congress.

In George's opinion, the President would have the legal authority to order naval escorts for merchantmen to any port where the ships may go legally. The neutrality law, he pointed out, prohibits American shipping from entering the combat zones defined by presidential proclamation.

As to Iceland, George noted that the island was not now within the confines of the combat zone. However, he said, there might be a question of international law involved on sea traffic to Iceland, because the little kingdom, which the British have occupied, was recently included in Germany's extended counter-blockade area.

There were 77 survivors, who reported the ship was carrying 480 soldiers in addition to ther passengers when she was sunk.

N. S. Crawford's Birthday Observed With Oyster Supper

KERENS, April 2.—(Spl.)—In observance of a custom, which began many years ago, the 78th birthday of Navarro County Democratic Chairman N. S. Crawford, was celebrated with the annual oyster supper, held at his home here Friday evening. Prepared and served by his children and their families, the menu consisted of oysters, served in a number of attempting ways, various salads, relishes, pies and cakes and steaming coffee.

Central attraction of the long linen-covered dining table, was the huge birthday cake, daintily iced in pink and blue, flanked on either side by crystal candle holders, in which white candles burned. White iris in lovely arrangement was used with the cake and candles to complete the decorative motif.

As the date marked also the 26th birthday of Charles Copoland, grandson of the honoree, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Copeland of Pursley, he was named honor guest also.

All eleven of Mr. Crawford's children were present, as follows: Lamar, Maurice, Grover, Joe, Buss, Lonnie, M. J. Crawford, and Mrs. Ruby Stovall, all of Kerens; Mrs. Lora Copeland, Pursley; Mrs. Allie Owen, Mildred; Mrs. Naomi Tyler, Houston.

OIL SITUATION FOR GERMANY MAY LEAD TO WAR DISASTER

ALL ACTIVITIES AXIS CARRIED ON LESS THAN 5 PER CENT U. S. CONSUMPTION

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON, April 3.—(AP)—While the United States has an excellent oil supply and transportation system ready for use in any emergency, the German situation is such that "actual invasion might never be necessary" for Great Britain to win the war, Robert E. Wilson, advisor on oil to the National Defense Commission, said today.

"The oil situation is working against" Germany "for the long pull" he asserted in an address before the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

There were three reasons, he said:

1. "Italy, due only partly to lack of oil, will be more of a liability than an asset to Hitler from now on.

2. "Germany's long pull oil outlook must be discouraging to her and requires considerable diversion of attention and energy to getting more oil supplies which she would prefer to use in other ways. Also, the shortage must niterfere increasingly with both her industrial production and her military operations.

3. "If and when England can achieve sufficient air superiority to permit long range and heavy daylight attacks on German synthetic plnts and transportation facilities she will be striking at such a vital spot that actual invasion might never be necessary in order to win the war."

On Thin Rations.

Wilson said Germany and Italy were carrying on their war operations, "plus the industrial, agricultural and civilian activities of these two countries and the occupied territory of Western Europe, with an amount of petroleum products, including synthetic products, equal to only about 5 per cent of our domestic production of crude or our consumption of refined products."

Of the United States, he said, "the purely military demand to date has not offset the loss of exports due to the war. x x x We estimate that in the absence of war the 1941 domestic demand for petroleum will be 8 or 9 per cent in excess of the 1940 demand, and that in the event of war toward the end of the year, the demand for the major products would be increased about another 5 per cent."

Wilson asserted "the producing branch of the Petroleum industry is particularly well prepared for any emergency."

Conservation Lauded.

He lauded states which have conservation statutes, saying he supposed "anyone locating new refineries or industries based on petroleum would naturally favor such states."

Then, in an interpolation into his prepared address, he added:

"This situation might change if Texas passes a processing tax."

Depite the favorable picture, Wilson said the industry should build up a stock pile.

J. Edgar Pew, vice president of the Sun Oil company, also said the industry was prepared for any emergency and declared against federal regulation.

Sumner T. Pike, securities exchange commissioner, asked the Geologists to appoint a committee to maintain liaison with the SEC, as a cooperative effort to stamp out "Geo-quackery." Pike said the move "would foster high standards of professional conduct."

GERMAN MARINERS REFUSE ENTER PLEAS SABOTAGE CHARGES

BOSTON, April 3.—(AP)—The German mariners, indicted for sabotage aboard their seized tanker, refused to plead in federal court today, in order to avoid placing themselves voluntarily under the court's jurisdiction.

Judge Hugh D. McClellan, elderly and austere, thereupon ordered pleas of "not guilty" entered for each man on the three indictments and directed that they provide aggregate surety of $150,000 or else be held in jail.

Speaking in English after each indictment was read, Captain Ernest R. Heitzmann and four other officers replied, "I do not desire to plead at all."

Speaking in German, the seamen answered "Ich mochte mir night fest longen," which Counsel said was the equivalent of the reply of the officers.

The officers, neatly attired in civilian clothes, and the seamen, also dressed in civilian attire but somewhat shabby, were manacled together in pairs.

Judge McLellan granted 10 days delay to defense counsel for the filing of special pleas.

Counsel for the men, members of the crew of the Pauline Freiderich, explained that their replies to the indictments were offered to keep them from voluntarily submitting to the jurisdiction of the court.

Development Travel Services Discussed

DALLAS, April 3.—(AP)—Development of co-ordinated motor travel services will be discussed here today at a tri-state conference of American Automobile Association Motor Clubs of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Aggressive action to obtain adequate roads for normal and defense traffic and efficient and safe highway uses also are subjects scheduled for discussion.

C. T. Matthews and Hubert Holloway, officials of the A.A.A. will represent the National Association. Ike Lorch, local chapter president, will be in charge of the conference.

FOUR UNITED STATES CITIZENS ARRESTED BERLIN LAST NIGHT

NEWSPAPER AND BROADCASTER AMONG THOSE ARRESTED, LATER RELEASED

BERLIN, April 3.—(AP)—Four United States citizens living in Berlin were arrested last night but were released later.

They were John Paul Dickson of the Chicago Tribune and Mutual Broadcasting System; Arthur K. Dunning, Secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce; a New York negro music student identified as John Welsh, and a Californian whose name was not disclosed.

(Dunning a native of Bath, Me., had lived in Berlin for 50 years.)

Dickson appeared at the regular noon press conference and told his colleagues:

"I lay in a police cell until 3 a .m. It was a room with 25 beds. Finally an officer came to the door and said: 'Dickson get up and dress.'

"I was handed back my penknife and nail file and set free. My papers were not inspected and nothing was touched. I was the first of the Americans in the cell let loose. I certainly am glad to get out."

No reason was given Dickson for his seizure.

Dunning, first of the four to be released, was freed after two hours.

"The Berlin police went to considerable trouble just taking down my personal data and that of my family," Dunning said. "They just once more went through the regular questioning and filling out of blanks usually required for foreigners residing in the reich."

He said police officials were nice throghout but that they had no explanation of the short detention except for meticulously recording personal data which he had given many times before.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this means of thanking each and everyone of you for your kind words and deeds and for the unforgetable consolation you have given us during the sad hours we have been called upon to bear during the sickness and death of our dear Mother, Mrs. Mary Lulu Ross. O'DANIEL APPOINTS WILLIAMS HIGHWAY COMMISSION PLACE

WAS REJECTED AS INSURANCE COMMISSIONER; B. D. BATTLE NAMED AUDITOR

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today made two important appointments to government offices.

B. D. Battle of Longview was named state auditor, to succeed Tom King, whose nomination the senate had rejected.

Reuben Williams was appointed a member of the state highway commission. Only yesterday his appointment as state life insurance commissioner was turned down by the senate.

Battle was appointed for the remainder of the auditor's term which expires next Sept. 13.

The appointment of Williams, a former secretary of the governor who has been a member of the insurance commission for several months under a recess appointment, was announced in a special message to the senate.

Williams was appointed to the highway commission for a six-year term which began February 15 and expires February 14, 1947.

He would succeed Harry Hines, an appointee of Governor James V. Allred.

Williams home is Fort Worth.

The resolution of highway commissioner is one of the most important in the state government because the commission of three members shapes the vast highway construction program of Texas.

Other members of the commission are Brady Gentry of Tyler, chairman, and Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Corbet 4-H Club.

"Work clothes may be working clothes or play clothes," Miss Clara Rettiger, County Home Demonstration Agent, told a group of Corbet 4-H Club girls at a meeting with Louise Williams, April 1.

Work clothes for the garden and yard should protect your neck, arms and legs. Some prefer a smock and bonnet, while others may prefer slacks and shirt.

Working clothes for the kitchen should be a large apron with a pocket large enough for a pot holder, and a covering for the head. Some may prefer costume effect suits, with the apron, cap and pot holder to match.

Your work clothes should be durable material and easy to laundry, not with frills and lace on it.

Some types of hats or coverings could be a handkerchief, coolie, or Dutch bonnet.

There were nine members present and three visitors, Mattie Hutchings, Mrs. C. E. Williams and Vernon Hodge, the sponsor Mrs. J. B. Bennett and Miss Rettiger.

The next meeting is with Evelyn Burnett, April 15.—Reporter.

Stansell Club

When a young beef tips the scales at 500 pounds he is ready to furnish good, tender cuts, Mrs. C. A. Willis told the Stansell Home Demonstration Club Thursday, March 27, as they met in the home of Mrs. Bob Evans.

Mrs. Willis continued, while preparing a calf for butchering feed it plenty of green grass in order for it to have vitamin A for the sake of the devourers. White face are not the only ones good for butchering, as Jerseys have been used and supply good tender cuts as others do.

After the program consisting of two songs, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," "Clementine" and a poem read by Mrs. R. A. Jones, the president presided over the business.

Timely Topics were by Mrs. J. E. Jones, "Country Things I Love Best," mentioning different things seen in the country in the spring of the year. Mrs. M. F. Nearing read a poem, "Why Not Liv- a Hundred and Then Die Young."

Little Miss Mary Lou Cox entertained the ladies by giving two readings, "My Modern Mother," and "My Kitty Rose."

The meeting adjourned to meet next in the home of Mrs. A. H. Burk April 10.—Reporter.

TAX BILL

including former Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, a tax expert, acknowledged the belief the legislature would approve a tax measure.

"The people of Texas," Morris declared, "demand and expect us to solve the problem of social security. This legislature is going to have to solve it for all time. I believe the people who need this aid are becoming a diminishing minority. I sincerely hope this committee and the senate will perfect the bill has quickly as possible."

Taylor pointed out $8,000,000 additional state money for pensions would give all on the rolls plus 20,000 more $20 a month.

Industries Active

"Industries," he added, "now are taking care of retirement so that fewer will be dependent on government pensions and social security in the future."

Spokesmen for industry and commerce reiterated previous protests against new taxes, asserting a crushing burden of state taxation plied onto mounting federal defense levies might force hundreds of small business men to close their doors and result in grave unemployment.

Before the hearing, a senate bill authorizing free textbooks for the teaching of Spanish in Texas elementary schools was passed by the house and sent to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel by vote of 111 to 8.

After sharp debate, the house passed to final reading a bill taxing milled rice for purposes of promotion, advertising and research. Louisiana and Arkansas have enacted similar statutes and the start of the program awaits only approval of the Texas lawmaking body.

The lower branch resumed floor consideration but did not reach a final vote on a state house redistricting bill on which numerous changes were voted.

Cotton Research Laboratory

Referred to a senate sub-committee for an early report was a proposal allocating $250,000 for a state cotton research laboratory to seek new uses for cotton and cotton seed.

Also sent to a sub-group in the upper legislative branch was a bill proposing a $200,000 appropriation for a tuberculosis sanatorium to serve south and southwest Texas where, physicians testified, the malady's death rate was highest in the state.

The tax hearing included subjects covering levies on sulphur, carbon black, soft drinks, oil well cementing, wholesalers' gross receipts and franchises and a proposal to repeal the chain store tax. No witnesses testified on carbon black and oil well cementing tax suggestions.

Previously, the committee had conducted hearings on new taxes for oil, gas, utilities, telephone companies, liquor, stock sales and motor vehicle loans.

Small asked the committee to amend an existing law so as to permit chain store tax-exempt filling stations to sell automobile accessories.

Argue Against Repeal

Former Senator Joe Moore of Hunt county and others argued against repeal of the chain store levy, contending the tax was not punitive, had been ruled constitutional and was intended to equalize merchandising opportunities. They said the chains made enormous profits.

Former Senator George Purl of Dallas and others declared the levy was a penalty on companies supplying good merchandise at prices 10 to 14 per cent lower than independents, that it was discriminative and punitive and that farmers were opposed to it.

Condemning any proposed levy on wholesalers' gross receipts, C. Y. Early of Brownwood declared such a tax would be dangerous and would involve disaster for many wholesalers, most of whom operated on small profits.

"I believe a net income tax or increase in franchise taxes would be more fair," Early said in answer to questions.

New Franchise Tax Plan.

Rep. Durwood Manford of Smiley, author of a provision abolishing the surrent system of franchise taxing and substituting a levy of $1 on each $1,000 stock explained the proposal, asserting it was a fairer method of taxation than the present system.

Contradicting Manford, Attorney James Pipkin of the Texas company said the provision would increase the franchise tax 1,400 per cent for his firm and asserted it was discriminatory.

Perry S. Robertson of San Antonio contended the proposed franchise tax would injure manufacturing while Claude Pollard of Austin stated it would unfairly boost taxes for railroads.

Predicting a tax on soft drinks would force many bottling plants to close down, H. B. Rorris of Fort Worth declared such a levy could not be absorbed by the industry. He pictured the proposal as a tax on a "poor man's luxury" and predicted many would be thrown out of work if it was approved.

H. Mims, Harry Webb and Hubbard Caven, Sulphur company representatives, stated their industries were already heavily taxed for social security purposes, urged economy in state, county and city government in view of mounting deferal taxes for defense and pleaded for "the right to earn a decent return on investments."

In closing her talk, Mrs. Hilburn plead for Americans to have a better understanding of the customs and the problems of the Japanese at this time of stress and war, and to be more prayerful for their condition. She stated that the middle class Japanese were not responsible for the military situation, but were forced into the war, just as the middle class in other countries.

ANTI-STRIKE BILL PASSED BY SENATE AND SENT GOVERNOR

HOUSE AND SENATE PASSED MEASURE OVERWHELMINGLY; ASKED BY O'DANIEL

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—In rapid-fire order, the Senate today passed to the governor a bill designed to prevent strike violence and the House sent the Senate a bill setting up machinery for the arbitration of labor disputes.

Both measures had been recommended by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

The governor sent the House a brief special message asking it to pass the bill providing that no strike can be called until after the quarrel has been submitted to arbitration. In less than an hour, the House labor committee had acted on it and the House had suspended all rules and passed it.

The vote in the Senate on the anti-violence bill was 27 to 4. That in the House on the arbitration measure was 132 to 3. The "no" votes in the House were cast by Representatives Boone, Simpson, and Love of Fort Worth.

Under the House-approved measure the arbitration board would consist of two persons named by employes, two by the employer and a fifth selected by these four. The board would have to make its decision with thirty days, and employes dissatisfied with that decision could not strike until forty days thereafter.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel had submitted the bill as emergency legislation, declaring it would help to prevent strikes in national defense industries.

A number of amendments, including one to lessen the penalties of one to four years imprisonment and another to terminate the life of the bill after four years, were rejected by the Senate.

The bill will become law immediately on signature by the governor.

Voting against the bill were Senators T. C. Chadick of Mineola, Clay Cotten of Palestine, William E. Stone of Galveston and L. J. Sulak of LaGrange.

The bill forbids "any person by the use of force or violence, or threat of its use, to attempt to prevent any person from engaging in any lawful vocation within the state."

Drastic Provisions.

It also made it a felony punishable by imprisonment of one to two years to act to concert with other persons, assemble near a place where a labor dispute exists, or to promote, encourage or aid unlawful assemblage.

Proponents contended in Senate discussion that the nation faced a great emergency, necessitating drastic action, and that none who did not engage in force and violence in strikes would be hurt by the measure.

Opponents argued there were no strikes in Texas, that the bill went too far in its restrictions and that present laws were adequate to deal with the situation.

Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, sponsor of the bill in the Senate, declared that when men have no respect for law and the rights of others "it is time to perform our duty and designate those men as criminals."

"A condition exists in the country warranting this action," he asserted. "Let us set an example for the rest of the country."

Senator Martin Speaks Out.

Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth roared that the time had come when "we need a little nerve."

He declared Communists claimed they had more members in this country now than were in Russia when they obtained control of that country.

"They say it can't happen here," Martin shouted. "It is happening right out at the University of Texas. I don't care what they say about putting up or shutting up."

Replying to a recent statement in the Legislature that "crazy ideas" existed at the school, Dr. Homer Price Rainey, university president, yesterday said that exhaustive investigations had disclosed no evidence of un-Americanisms in the institution.

Dr. Rainey said those making charges should back their allegations with evidence or shut up.

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, another bill proponent, declared he favored "giving Hamy Bridges 200 years in Hell."

"Everyone knows perfectly well that this bill is aimed at Communism at plants which are producing war materials," said Senator Clem Fain of Livingston.

independence in order to make his influence the greater on the Germans, whose drain of Hungary's food and other supplies often aroused cabinet controversies.

He was known to the public as the "great tightrope walker," because Hungarians saw him in the role of a man atteempting to keep balance with Germany, just short of giving in completely to Adolf Hitler.

In recent days he had been conferring day and night with army leaders and government officials concerning the Yugoslav situation.

His death was the second tragedy among members of the Hungarian government this year. Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky died Jan. 27 of food poisoning contracted during a friendship visit to Yugoslavia where he signed a "pact of eternal friendship."

Hungarian newspapers said that Teleki "met a tragic death" and that he had left a letter, "the contents of which are unknown."

(The German radio, in a broadcast heard in New York by CBS, said the death was "a great loss to Hungary, and Germany mourns the loss of a great friend.")

Presented Credentials.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—George de Ghika, new Hungarian minister, presented his credentials to President Roosevelt today and told reporters afterward Mr. Roosevelt had expressed regret at hearing of the death of Hungary's premier, Count Pal Teleki.

MAJOR H. E. ROBERTS ON INSPECTION TOUR OF DEFENSE GUARDS

LOCAL ORGANIZATION MAKING EXCELLENT PROGRESS, IT IS STATED

Preliminary checking of the organization of the Thirty-Seventh Battalion area, Home Defense Guard, was made Wednesday by Major Henry E. Roberts of Denton, inspector of the adjutant general's department, Austin. Major Roberts is the head of the Thirtieth Battalion in the Denton-Gainesville area.

The Thirty-Seventh area is commanded by Major Festus A. Pierce of Corsicana and is composed of units recently organized in Corsicana, Kerens, Athens and Palestine.

Legislation authorizing the Home Defense Guard units was passed, Feb. 14. There are now, according to Major Roberts, 200 companies and 15,000 officers and men. This rapid organization of these defense units has been done without any expense to the government—on a patriotic basis for the protection of the communities and state. No salaries are paid the men and officers.

Within the near future inspection for state recognition will be started. The inspector stated that all expenses of the local units must be furnished locally, and the law allows counties and cities to provide the uniforms, armory rental, stationery, etc. Any private donation to this cause is deductable from income tax reports, Major Roberts continued, but no solicitation for funds is permissible except through the battalion company officers.

Major Pierce asserted that officers of the home guard units want the best men of the communities in these companies.

The Corsicana unit now has forty members enlisted and examined and hope to have the full complement of seventy-five by next week. Major Pierce made it plain that the progress of this area has been satisfactory, but declared he hoped it would be the first approved in the state after inspection.

The federal government will provide guns and a limited amount of ammunition as soon as it becomes a recognized area. Major Pierce plans to seek local assistance for uniforms and other necessities, and pointed out that the area in this locality is especially needful for such a unit should an emergency arise, because of the location of highway junctions, nupmerous pipelines for oil and gas, pump stations, the huge Trinidad power plant, cotton mill and foundries working on government orders for defense, etc.

Should this area not desire such a unit, it was pointed out, there is a likelihood it would be transferred to another section as there are more requests for area designations in Texas than will be allowed under the set-up.

The officers said the home guard is being patterned somewhat like the famous home guard of England which they credited with preventing the landing of parachute troops and invasion forces in the British Isles.

Fascists Evacuate Asmara.

ROME, April 3.—(AP)—The Italian high command said today fascist troops evacuated Asmara, the capital of Eritrea, in order to avoid further bombardment, which it said already had cost hundreds of lives.

Axis Planes Sink Six Ships.

ROME, April 3.—(AP)—German and Italian planes, armed with torpedoes and bombs, sank six ships in two convoys in the eastern Mediterranean and probably sank a seventh, Italy's high command announced today.

Rail Point Captured.

CAIRO, April 3.—(AP)—British advance troops in Ethiopia have captured Miesso, on the Addis Ababa-Jibuti railway about 180 miles east of the Ethiopian capital, the British middle east command announced today.

In North Africa, the British command announced that its troops in Libya had withdrawn to portions north of Agedabia and that this movement was followed up by axis mechanized forces. Agedabia is about 80 miles northeast of Ahelia and a short distance inland.

The capture of Miesso carried the British almost a third of the way to Addis Ababa from Diredawa, where they first cut the rail lifeline leading to Jibuti on the Gulf of Aden in French Somaliland.

In neighboring Eritrea, where the British have occupied the Colonial Capital of Asmara, Imperial forces were reported continuing their thrust southward. This indicated that the fascists were retreating along the coastal road toward the Ethiopian border instead of toward Massaua, Eritrea's chief seaport some 72 miles northeast of Asmara.

Only an Italian garrison ingecurely holding the Red Sea port of Massaua under the threat of British naval guns appeared to stand today between conquering British forces and possession of Eritreat, oldest colony of Italy's crumbling African empire.

Remnants of the fascist's Eritrean army—said to number from 30,000 to 40,000 men—poured through the inland capital city of Asmara Tuesday and headed for the Ethiopian border, 50 miles to the south.

Military observers said the fleeing Italians might make a stand at Aduwa, (Ethiopia) 60 miles from Asmara on an excellent highway. It was at Aduwa that Ethiopians under Emperor Menelik II routed an invading Italian force in 1896.

Wind, Rain, Hail Hit Parts of Texas

(By The Associated Press.)

The tornado season in Texas opened last night on the heels of thunderstorms in the Eastern area with two persons being injured when a twister struck at Wortham.

M. Smith, a garageman, and Miss Estellene Ezzell were hurt, Smith by a piece of flying sheetiron and Miss Ezzell when the tornado unroofed the home of her father, C. C. Ezzell.

The turbulent wind smashed at Wortham in the midst of a rain and hailstorm.

Tyler was hard hit along the belt of thunderstorms which extended to Shreveport. An estimated damage of $100,000 resuled to goods in stores and wareouses and flooded streets at Tyler.

A heavy hailstorm beat the territory around Tyler, Longview and Henderson and Huntsville reported the heaviest hail on record.

One building collapsed at Tyler when 1.87 inches of rain fell in ten minutes no one was injured. At Longview more than two inches of rain fell witin an hour.

A number of oil derricks were blown down at Wortham and the city was without lights. Telephone lines were damaged.

In northwest Harrison county an estimated three inches of hail gave the territory a terrific beating but the only heavy damage appeared to be in the vicinity of Harleton.

has no intention of attacking Britain unless it is quite apparent that the axis has the war won.

The upsets to the axis program aren't the only factors which are calculated to restrain Japan. Along with these there has been a reappearance of Britain's old assertiveness in the Far East. As she has regained her strength from the early disaster on Flanders Fields. She has resumed her firm attitude. A fair illustration is seen in the way the British rushed to arms in Singapore recently when they thought they saw a possible attack coming from the Japanese.

Then, too, the passage of the lend-lease bill in Washington, with its wide provisions for aid not only to Britain but to China, has dampened the Japanese enthusiasm for the axis program.

The whole position was significantly summed up the other day in San Francisco by Soburo Kurusu, retiring Japanese ambassador to Germany, who was en route home. He said a Japanese-American war would be " a great crime against humanity," and added:

"I think President Roosevelt feels the same way as I do—he is working to preserve peace for the welfare of mankind."

INTERNATIONAL

Although Hungary is a member of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance and dominated by Germany, Count Teleki had won the soubriquet of "the great tightrope walker"—viewed by Hungarians in the role of a man striving to keep balance with Germany, just short of yielding completely to Hitler.

Suicide No Longer Denied.

The Swiss telegraph agency published a dispatch from Budapest, capital of Hungary, stating "it is no longer denied here that Teleki committed suicide."

In Rome, Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda, often called Premier Mussolini's chief editorial spokesman, asserted that Italy and Germany no longer felt bound to respect Yugoslavia's territorial integrity and independence—as guaranteed when Yugoslavia's regency government signed the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

This was the first semi-authoritative admission that King Peter's new regime has, in effect, repudiated the axis.

A coded telegram from Berlin at 7:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m., EST.) called for the withdrawal of the entire Nazi legation staff in Belgrade except the Charge d'Affaires and the military attache.

German quarters declared frankly:

Carries Grave Implications.

"The withdrawal carries grave implications of the inevitability of war breaking out soon."

German motorized "blitzkrieg" forces were reported massing in large numbers on the Rumanian frontier, opposite the Yugoslav town of Bela Crkva—less than fifty miles from Belgrade.

Other fast Nazi divisions massed near Szeged, in southern Hungary, opposite the Yugoslav border.

Yugoslavia has 1,200,000 men under arms, but it remained a military secret whether the Balkan kingdom's general staff would elect to defend Belgrade. German circles predicted the capital would fall within forty-eight hours after Nazi troops crossed the frontier—if war come.

Invasion Fears Heightened.

Fears of an imminent German invasion were heightened when the Berlin radio—in early morning broadcasts reminiscent of the outbursts which preceded the Nazi invasions of Czecho-Slovakia and Poland—accused the Yugoslavs of committing atrocities against the German minority.

The Yugoslav government quickly issued a brief but firm denial of the "atrocity" charges, declaring:

"All reports of terrorism against the German minority are unfounded."

A possible clue to Germany's intentions came from Vichy, France, where rumors persisted that Italian troops were expected to relieve many units of the German army of occupation in France—freeing the Germans for service "elsewhere."

Slashing new inroads on Britain's sea-borne supplies were reported in axis capitals.

German Sea Successes.

Berlin said the German navy had sunk 367,800 tons of merchant ships in the Atlantic from March 16 to 23; that Nazi warplanes destroyed two armed merchantmen (of [illegible] 16,000 tons in an attack on a British convoy off the Grecian Isle of Crete, and two 4,000-ton vessels were sunk near the British Isles.

Rome asserted that German and Italian planes sang six ships in two convoys in the Eastern Mediterranean.

In London, the air ministry said RAF bombers scored hits on two armed merchant ships off the coast of Holland and left one of them sinking.

The German communique declared that the British—presumably small outpost forces—were beating "hasty retreat northward" toward Bengasi.

Concurrently, the British Middle East command announced that British troops striking into Ethiopia have captured Miesso, 180 miles east of Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

Matsuoka Goes to Berlin.

ROME, April 3.—(AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuge Matsuoka departed for Berlin today en route to Tokyo after a three-day visit in which, Italian sources said, he discussed plans for joint action against the United States in event of war.

Jap Forces to Depart.

SAIGON, French Indo-China, April 3.—(AP)—The last Japanese military forces remaining in southern Indo-China will depart tomorrow, Japanese authorities informed the French Indo-China government today.

The Japanese thus will relinquish the military foothold they obtained in Saigon during recent mediation of the Indo-China-Thailand border dispute.

Seek Reach U. S. Legation.

ROME, April 3.—(AP)—Students attempted to reach the United States embassy and the Yugoslav legation for demonstrations today but were turned back by cordons of troops who blocked the approaches to both buildings.

Several score students paraded through the streets, carrying large Italian and German flags after cheering Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka on his way to the station.

They first went to the Palazzo Borghese but troops prevented them from getting near the Yugoslav legation. The students then marched a mile to the Via Vittorio Veneto, where the United States embassy is situated, but again their approach was blocked.

Rioting at Beirut.

VICHY, France, April 3.—(AP)—Rioting and street battles between police and natives at Beirut, in French-mandated Lebanon, were disclosed by the government today after appointment of Khaled Bey Azem to form a new Syrian government.

captive machine, it may be in the streamlined aerodynamics of the wing structure, plus the ship's ability to maintain high speed—365 miles an hour—throughout its cruising range of 850 miles.

Engineers discovered that the Messerschmitt uses the control stick instead of the wheel common to American planes. Wilson said the Germans may be convinced the old fashioned stick permits greater maneuverability.

The Nazi plane has a wingspread of 55 feet, length of 35 feet and weighs 14,000 pounds. It carries two 20 mm. cannon and two fixed 30 caliber machine guns, all firing through the nose. A third machine gun was on a movable mount from the rear of the single cockpit.

Eureka Methodist WSCS Met Tuesday At Church There

The Eureka Methodist Woman's Society for Christian service met at the church Tuesday, April 1.

Our president, Mrs. H. A. Garland, took charge of the meeting, With her at the piano, the group opened the meeting by singing "Take Time To Be Holy," and "God Will Take Care of You."

We then had prayer led by Mrs. Mary Meador.

The devotional was given by Mrs. George Smith, who got her material from the seventh chapter of St. Matthew. She commented on different verses throughout the chapter. The message she delivered was interesting, and an inspiration to all. Sentence prayers were then called for, and each member of the group responded.

Three beautiful poems were read. First, "If We Knew," by Mrs. O. E. Pritchett. Second, "Some One Prayed," by Mrs. Harper, and next, "Uninstricted," by Mrs. George Smith.

The secretary, Mrs. Estelle Montgomery, read the minutes of the previous meeting and then called the roll, with seven members and two visitors answering present.

One visitor was one of our old members, Mrs. Mary Meador, the other Mrs. Fred Ward, both of Corsicana.

Our April Fool Social had to be postponed so instead we are going to have the social Tuesday, April 15. We will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Harper.

We are inviting everybody who would like to come.

The group voted to change the society's benediction. We will now use the fourteenth verse of the nineteenth Psalm.

The meeting was then turned over to the teacher, Mrs. Dave Garrett, who read a poem entitled, "The Golden Key," and then discussed the fourth chapter of Ephesians with the class.

The meeting was closed with the new benediction.

Each member was refreshed with a social chat before leaving to go home.—Reporter.

BOYS 4-H CLUBS IN DISTRICT FOUR ARE EXTREMELY ACTIVE

VALUE TRENCH SILOS WAS DEMONSTRATED NAVARRO COUNTY, REPORT SHOWS

COLLEGE STATION, April 3.—(Spl.)—The enrollment of 4-H club boys in district four at the end of 1940 was 5,933 and demonstrations completed during the year numbered 3,226.

G. W. Orms, district agent, names among outstanding achievements prize money totaling $2,422 which the boys won at district shows. They showed 392 animals which sold for $25457, or a gross return of $27,873, including premiums, for the year's work.

Practically everything within the scope of oil field crops, excepting a few truck crops and citrus, is produced in the 17 counties of the district. Conspicuous progress was made in livestock improvement, including dairy and beef cattle, swine, poultry, orchards, gardens and other phases of agriculture. The work of boys' 4-H clubs fitted into the livestock feeding and management program.

The district agent says that an important factor contributing to better farming methods was the introduction of one-variety cotton communities. Soil building and conservation, long-time problems in the district, are being solved by terracing, growing and turning under legume crops, use of fertilizer, farm drainage, and especially, farm pastures. Barns, fences and general farm esuipment were not neglected in the program of improvement.

Farm Market Roads.

Several farm market roads, necessary to farmers in marketing their surplus crops, were built and others improved. The service of rural electrification was extended, and the improvement in rural schools was notable during the year.

One of the leading activities scheduled for 1940, Orms says, was to encourage building of trench silos. This was the most direct approach toward solving an economic problem of feeding all types of farm animals, is as much as it provides an inexpensive method of conserving fted for periods of shortage, that otherwise might go to waste.

Illustrating the benefit of this means of saving feed, the district agent cites an example in Navarro county. Trench silos filled in 1939 were opened and the feed was used in connection with grains and roughages in figuring out rations for dairy and beef cattle. Another silo, filled in 1937, was opened and the feed found to be in perfect condition. A dairy financial plan has been set up in the county to assist farmers in buying a limited number of dairy cows, provided they have an adequate supply of feed.

On January 1, 1941, there were 2,919 trench silos in the district, an increase of 119 over the corresponding date one year ago.

Livestock Growing Increases.

A substantial increase in growing of livestock, especially dairy cattle, hogs and poultry throughout the district is an outstanding item in the progressive plan of work. This is expected to be achieved by better methods of handling, better equipment and better feeding practices, including disease-control measures, which in turn will mean larger profits to growers.

"We also plan," Orms adds, "to have an increased number of demonstrations in field crops, such as cotton, corn, small grains, alfalfa both temporary and permanent pastures, and wildlife."

The terracing program in Denton County handled seven demonstration terrace levels through the county agricultural agent's office in which farmers learned the latest methods in this division of conservation.

The county land use planning committee of Kaufman County has laid out plans for cotton improvement work for 1941, and has set up several communities to carry on the work wit hthe assistance of Roy Saunders, at the Greenville station, who will explain the cotton marketing system which was conducted successfully by farmers in the Victoria area.

In Tarrant County, the Dairy Herd Improvement association work made marked progrss in culling and improved livestock practices, and also in improving varieties of fruit. The Cross Timbers section has many small truck owners, who are vitally interested in the new varieties of fruit trees.

Ennis Schools Will Inaugurate Twelve Year Plan 1941-42

ENNIS, April 3.—(Spl.)—Ennis Public School will inaugurate the twelve-year plan for the 1941-1942 session following adoption of the system by the school board this week, C. C. Isbell, superintendent, announced.

Supt Isbell said the program as outlined by the State Department of Education will be used. The additional year will be introduced and used in the lower elementary grades.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

RIGHT GIFTS FO R "OCCASIONS".

With weddings and anniversaries coming in the next months, it might be well to review a bit, and remember the type of gift one would bring to a celebration of the wedding day. If such an occasion is in the offing for a very close friend, even though she is not having a party, to remember it with a small, inexpensive gift is a generous gesture. Somehow, the joy of receiving the gift and knowing that someone has taken time and thought to remember the event, is out of all proportion to the size and value of the present itself. Little remembrances do much to cement kind thoughts of you—and we all need these.

Here is a list of anniversaries:

1 year	Paper
5 years	Wood
10 years	Tin
15 years	Crystal
20 years	China
25 years	Silver
50 years	Gold
75 years	Diamond

The paper, wooden and tin weddings are never marked by expensive gifts unless one is particularly anxious to give something of permanent value. But the crystal, china and silver weddings should be marked by something a little more special. And for a gold or diamond celebration we should outdo ourselves.

When giving such a party—if it is your own wedding anniversary, it is not wise to ask any but quite intimate friends and relatives, because the invitation means a gift. An afternoon tea, or an evening followed by a buffet supper, is a nice way to celebrate; and, of course, a dinner party is very special.

Invitations for such events may be in a formal form, or may be written on small cards in this fashion:

1926—1941
Mr. and Mrs. John Doe
will be at home
on Monday, the ninth of June,
from four until seven o'clock.

For very informal parties, a telephone invitation is quite correct. And be sure that you take the time to write notes of thank-you the day after your party.

All requests for personal "Health Beauty and Poise" information desired by Veronica Dengel's column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.) Address: Veronica Dengel in care of this newspaper.

Activities Report Local NYA Center

We attended a movie in the Center presented by E. D. Barwick from the audio-visual division of State Department of Education. Mr. Barwick is visiting all NYA projects in the Palestine area. The subjects on Monday, March 17, 1941 were: Foods and Nutrition, Heart and Circulation, and The American Way. The subjects on March 25 were: House Fly, Overland to California, and Panama Canal.

Louise Dobbs of Kerens underwent an appendectomy at the P. and S. Hospital. Louise has gone home and is doing nicely. We expect her back during our next period.

Mrs. Ruth Yelvington and Mrs. Lilla Colp attended a meeting of vocational homemaking teachers and NYA project supervisors at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth March 14.

Miss Virginia Beal from the State department of Health and Mrs. Edith Gravely from the Area Department of health visited us during our stay this time.

The making of personal garments under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Yelvington, our home making teacher, occupied the time of the girls in the house. Ten dresses, two play suits and five blouses were begun and most of them were completed. New home improvements conducted by the girls have been the addition of new rubber treads on the stairs, painting of the back porch floor, and the addition of new fixtures in the bath rooms. We have rearranged our storage closets and stbrage space.

We entertained a number of our friends with an informal dance at the center on March 24. The Corsicana Play Boys furnished music for dancing during the latter part of the evening.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Corbet Club.

Never iron a tufted bed spread; the crinkled effect is typical of its colonial ancestry, Miss Clara Rettiger, Navarro County Home Demonstration agent, told a group of Corbet club women, in the ohme of Mrs. John Crawford, April 1..

In laundering any tufted article soak in warm (not hot) water for 3 or 4 hours. Wash with good laundry soap, rubbing between the hands or on a washboard. Rinse, but do not wring or squeeze. Hang right side out on the line in the sun when stiff breeze is blowing. When about half dry rub on the right side with a stiff brush and beat vigorously with peeled willow switches until entirely dry. The longer it hangs in the wind and sun when it is laundered the prettier it becomes.

The Easter motif was carried out in the refreshment plate. Fifteen members were served by Mrs. Crawford and her two co-hostesses, Mrs. nnie Womack and Mrs. Gordon Crawford.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Annie Womack's April 15.

Oak Valley Club.

Meat is one of the most valuable foods in our diet, Miss Clara E. Rettiger, home demonstration agent, told the Oak Valley Home Demonstration club March 27 in the home of Mrs. Hawkins Scarborough with Mrs. N. M. Bounds, co-hostess. Meat is rich in protein, so therefore we need it in our diet. Since meat is expensive we should try to produce and preserve it if possible.

Some good points in meat are that it is pleasing to taste, easily digested, has a pleasing aroma, and it is wholesome. The protein value is mostly in fat meat. Meats supply us with energy, and a child needs this and proteins especially in development of his body.

Every one needs one serving of meat per day or five per week, Miss Rettiger continued. Meats contain minerals that the body needs also.

In preparing our meat we should choose firm red meat with some fat. The fat should be a creamy white and firm. The parts of the animal least used furnish the tender meat. Since meat contains about fifty per cent water, we do not need to use much water in cooking. Dry heat is used in roasting meat. Since meat is easy to spoil we should be sure that we select fresh meat.

Mrs. John Bennett gave an interesting timely topic on cheap milk production. She gave four reasons why milk production is more expensive than necessary, which are the lack of supply of good food, too many low producing cows, poor management and poor quality of milk and produce.

At the noon hour, the hostesses served luncheon consisting of roast broiled steak, candied yams, pineapple salad, green butter beans, pie, coffee and tea to twenty seven members and four visitors. The visitors were Mrs. A. M. Rylie, Mrs. T. S. Rae, Mrs. H. P. Inman and Mrs. Johnny Coe.

During the afternoon we had our grab box consisting of articles made from sacks. The members gave to their club friends and everyone received pretty and useful gifts. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim McManus, April 10.—Louise Stover, reporter.

Emhouse Club.

The Emhouse Home Demonstration club met Tuesday, April 1st with Mrs. Mae Holcomb. The club was called to order by the president, with twenty members and one visitor answering the roll call.

The club voted to take advantage of the First Aid course to be offered to all clubs in the county interested in first aid work.

The club voted for the president to plan ways with the Red Cross in Corsicana, so that each member would be able to help either with knitting or sewing.

All who can are urged to go to the Short Course at Denton April 18th; and also the districts meeting at Cleburne April 22nd.

The Timely Topic on Cotton Stamps was discussed round table fashion.

Mrs. Lola Mae McManus, bed room demonstrator, discussed the sizes of sheets and pillow cases and also the kinds of material to use in making them.

The hostess served a plate consisting of ice cream and strawberry short cake, which was enjoyed by all present. The meeting adjourned to meet April 15th with Mrs. Nell Collins, all are urged to be present as Miss Rettiger meets with us.—Reporter.

Oak Valley 4-H Club.

Good grooming adds lots to the personality of a girl, Mrs. C. M. Stover, sponsor of the Oak Valley 4-H Club, told the girls, March 19, at the school. Cleanliness is the most essential factor in good grooming she continued.

The hair and make-up should be worn according to the shape of face. The hands and nails should be cared for, too. The nails should be shaped according to the shape of the finger-tips. Mild soaps should be used on the skin.

A report on the gardens was given by the girls. Those present were Fern Johnson, Julia Mae Griffin, Donna Harper, Barbara Harper, Earlene Stewart, Hazel Lord, Doreta Faye Walker, Adelle Johnson, Mary McKinney, Johnnie Faye Mantz, Doris Wood, Trudy Cantrell, Mattie Hutchins, Mrs. Stover and Clovis Ray Stover. The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 2.—Reporter.

REDISTRICTING BILL PASSED BY HOUSE AND SENT SENATE TODAY

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—After voting to delay its effectiveness until the 1944 elections, the House of representatives today passed to the Senate a state House redistricting bill.

This action was one of several important legislative developments The Senate passed Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's emergency bill designed to prevent strike violence, and received from the governor appointments of Ruben Williams as state highway commissioner and B. D. Battle of Longview as state auditor.

House approval of the redistricting bill came at the end of a turbulent session, in which Rep. Roger Q. Evans of Denison, a foe of the measure, charged that its backers had exercised "duress and pressure" on House colleagues. Evans demanded a special committee investigation of tactics of the bill's sponsors.

If the Senate should back up the House action and unless the next Legislature should repeal the bill, legislative districts would be revamped for the first time since 1923.

THIRTY THOUSAND PILOTS AND 100,000 TECHNICIANS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today the army air corps planned to establish more than three score new schools to permit training of 30,000 pilots a year.

Under the latest air force expansion for which Congress voted funds last week, 100,000 technicians are to be trained annually instead of the present 45,000. Stimson said this would require an early $29,000,000 outlay for new schools at Biloxi, Miss., and Wichita Falls, Texas, and for additional housing at existing schools.

The ten flying schools for basic or advanced training to be established immediately are to be located at Maco and Albany, Ga.; Selma, Ala., Ellington Field and Victoria, Tex.; Bakersfield, Taft, and Mather Field, Calif.; Phoenix, Ariz., and Las Vegas, Nev.

NEW YORK, April 3.—(AP)—Buying in rails today touched off a speedy belated Spring stock market rally that carried favorites up 1 to more than 2 points, some to new highs for the year or longer.

There were slow intervals but the day's turnover of approximately 900,000 shares was the largest for 1941 to date.

Among stocks stellar performers included Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Southern Railway, Gulf Mobile & Ohio preferred, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Crucible Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Secondary rails were in front of another fast advance in the bond division. Rubber, silk, copper, hides, cocoa, sugar, coffee and wool tops were swift movers on the upside.

In the curb Aluminum of America spurted several points. Tilting forward also were American Cyanamid "B," Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share preferred, Humble Oil, Jones & Laughlin, Tampa Electric and Babcock & Wilcox.

Womens' Clubs To Assist in Program At Military Camps

BROWNWOOD, April 3.—(AP)—The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will co-operate in the National Defense program in making the soldier's social life more enjoyable, Mrs. J. W. Walker, president, of Plainview, said today.

The plan will probably include organization, through the present clubs, of a women's league in each community which would determine young women available in the communities to come to army camps for dances; securing of chaperones and other details, Mrs. Walker said.

Mrs. Walker paid Camp Bowie a surprise visit last night, dined with the enlisted men and attended the regular Wednesday night Service club dance. She said she was impressed with the work of hostesses at Camp Bowie and assured them of wholehearted cooperation in their program.

Today she was to address the 26th annual convention of the sixth district of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at Ballinger. Her topic was to be "Army Recreation."

Italy Virtually Admits Impending African Losses

ROME, April 3.—(AP)—Mario Appelius, fascist military commentator, prepared Italians today for news of "further painful losses" in what appears to be a virtual admission of the loss of Ethiopia through imminent fall of Addis Ababa and Dessie.

Declaring that 300,000 British troops "flanked by Haile Selassie's savage hordes and aided by formidable armament and abundant aviation" were piercing Ethiopia from 13 different routes, Appelius said in Mussolini's own newspapers Il Popolo D'Italia of Milon:

"Our spirit is prepared by now for new painful losses, some of which were imposed by the humaneness of the Italian command, which is evacuating certain urban centers to save the population the horrors of street fighting."

"Where the enemy errs," Appelious added, "is in believing he can deliver a mortal blow to Italy through our sorrow at Eritrea and Ethiopia."

Dessie is some 160 miles nothest of Addis Ababa, the capital, where British and native forces have been reporting considerable gains.

Some Questionable Subjects Slated To Face Mathematicians

DENTON, April 3.—(AP)—It will not be double talk but only a mathematician can understand it when they start discussing such things at "compact unicoherent continua" here tomorrow.

Then, there is the matter of "quasi-analyticity and singularities of analytic functions."

These are among the nine subjects up for discussion at the annual convention of the Texas section of American Mathematical association.

Of the entire nine subjects, the laymen probably would understand fully what they're driving at in but one.

That is a report of the committee on freshman failures. Prof. C. A. Murray of West Texas State Teachers college will make this report on Saturday.

Five leading mathematicians of the state have been working on the problem for two years. The report seeks to answer this question, put forth in every day english:

NO DECISION WAS REACHED ON FOOD STAMP PROPOSITION

MERCHANTS SHOWED DESIRE STUDY MATTER FURTHER BEFORE DECIDING

No decision was reached on the food stamp plan Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the commissioners' court following conferences with bankers and retail merchants. Decision will be made later, it was indicated, after the merchants have studied the proposal more.

B. W. Woolley, head of the air school, located five miles south of Corsicana, thanked the court for its work in preparing the landing field, outlined the expansion program under way, whereby he believes the school will train 600 cadet flyers, and showed the amount of money to come to the county as a result. A county depository was designated. Restrictions of parking near the air school, a speed limit was set and other matters were considered Tuesday afternoon.

Bids opened Tuesday for used graders were rejected.

Claims were approved except as noted on claim docket.

The county auditor was authorized to discount two state warrants aggregating $2,154.09 at 1 per cent.

Stamp Plan Outlined.

Terry Stowe, representing the Surplus Marketing Administration, outlined the proposed stamp plan to the grocers, showing the benefits derived as the money goes into the channels of trade and reduces the farm surpluses. Among those to be benefitted, he said, would be the WPA employed, old age assistance, some of the CCC families, and those receiving FSA grants—estimated at some 6,500 people.

The stamps are used for money in the stores for food only. One of the regulations is that no cash be given in change, but due bills can be given the customers, he said.

Stowe suggested the merchants organize and appoint a committee to represent them in advertising, printing pamphlets and conducting an educational campaign. He said that stamps issued could not be used for the payment of old accounts or debts.

Anton Cone, district commodity supervisor for 22 counties in Central Texas, Waco headquarters, said last year commodities sent into Navarro county amounted to $52,000, while clothing, mattresses and other things were additional. He said that the 22 cuounties used about $1,600,000 of food commodities last year, an average of about $37.50 per person. He suggested that the stamp plan would eliminate many evils of the distribution system, and allow the men who pay much of the taxes a chance to make a small profit.

1,400 in County.

Case workers said that there are 1,400 old age assistance persons in Navarro county eligible to receive surplus commodities while only 400 are availing themselves of that right because they do not have conveyances and do not desire to stand or wait for hours at the distribution center.

Judge E. D. McCormick said he was willing to go as far as possible if the bankers and merchants desired the program. He said the court had thought the program would cost from $100 to $150 per month, but that it appears it will cost from $300 to $400 more. "We don't know about it if it is to cost the county that much more."

N. Suttle Roberts, president of the State National Bank of Corsicana, said the cost to the county would be a high per cent of the increase. He asserted that the county budget "won't stand many more licks," and then he pointed out that the program would cost local banks between $400 and $500 per year in overtime to clerks. He said, however, not to consider the banks, but look at it from the other side—cost to the county as compared with benefits derived.

Supplemental Program.

Julia Callicutt, area supervisor, Texas relief, said the surplus commodities was only a supplemental relief program, and expressed the opinion that the people would get more relief and the merchants would get a profit under the plan.

In the discussion, it was brought out there were 2110 persons in Navarro county eligible for the purchase of orange stamps and 600 on direct relief. Salaries of workers expected to be required on the program would approximate $5,000 per year, it was indicated.

G. M. Chapman, Kerens merchant and mayor of that city, said that if those eligible could get WPA jobs, the program might be helpful, but doubted the benefit unless there was work. Seventeen merchants voted for the plan and six against.

After further discussion, the commissioners' court adjourned to its regular meeting place from the district court room and allowed the merchants and Mr. Stowe to discuss the matter further. The decision to hold the mass meeting of retail and wholesale grocers Thursday night was announced to the court later.

Appreciation Expressed.

B. L. Woolley, head of the air school south of Corsicana, expressed his appreciation for the co-operation given his concern by the commissioners' court in the use of maintainers and other equipment in the preparing of the landing field. He stated that the mess hall, kitchen, recreation and other buildings were constructed for a school of 700 cadets while the original barracks plans were only for 160 cadets. He said that it appeared within 60 days a new hangar will be needed and the construction of a second hanger will be started within the next few days with the third hangar on order.

Woolley estimated that a total of four hangars, accommodating 30 planes each, will be provided within the near future at the site, with a possibility a fifth may be constructed.

He stated the army officials were asking 'How many can you train?" and not how many do you want.

Pleased at Co-Operation.

The head of the air school said the officials were more than pleased with the county and city co-operation and the surroundings, and he termed the action taken by the court as "for the defense program." He predicted the local school would be a permanent one, and expressed the possibility it would "become a little Randolph Field."

There are 70 families here now. He stated that the monthly payroll here within 90 days will equal that of a factory ordinarily employing 1,000 persons, as most of those here will be high-salaried persons. He said there would be 200 cadets here within a few months.

Instructors draw from $300 to $375 per month, with some of those at the local school drawing $400 per month. The cadets get good wages and receive money from their homes, Woolley continued.

"The next class of cadets will report in May," he stated.

Total Outlay is $250,000.

Mr. Woolley said that more than $100,000 had been spent in Corsicana and Navarro county at the present time, while the total expense of the plant was estimated at $250,000.

Speaking of the inspection board of high army aviation officers expected next month, he stated he believed that this school would be ranked higher than any except those at Phoenix, Ariz., and one in California, if the remainder of the field was leveled.

On motion of Taylor, seconded by Slaughter, the county auditor was authorized to advertise for bids for one or more used or new graders with a trade-in, and one or more used or new tractors, bids to be opened April 14. All voted aye.

It was stated no bids had been received as county depository on the recent advertisement, and on motion of Taylor, seconded by Slaughter, the First National Bank of Corsicana again was designated as the depository. All voted aye.

On motion of Slaughter, seconded by Gillen, an order was passed requiring that a deposit of $15 be made on all probate cases filed. All voted aye on the motion. The deposit is for costs.

On motion by Taylor, seconded by Slaughter, the area on the Navarro lateral pavement, one-half mile north and one-half mile south of the main entrance of the air school, was designated as an area where no parking will be allowed except on the west side of the pavement, and the speed limit was set at 20 miles per hour. All voted aye, except Commissioner Gillen, who was absent from the court room. The Corsicana Chamber of Commerce had advised the court proper signs would be erected by it if the order was passed.

Monday Morning.

Several routine matters were considered by the commissioners prior to the meeting on the stamp plan. The commissioners were reminded of the meeting of the East Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association at Tyler, April 10-12.

Occupation taxes listed were approved.

Several tax adjustment and road matters were considered.

Lease New Offices.

A contract, on motion of Commissioner C. M. Fitzgerald, seconded by Commissioner Jim Taylor, with Corsicana Lodge No. 63, IOOF, for the second floor of a building on North Beaton Street, was authorized. The contract for a year calls for $12.50 per month rent. Old age assistance, relief, WPA and other offices will be housed at the new location. All voted aye on the motion.

Commissioners Drew Gillen and C. O. Slaughter agreed to fix a bridge near Richland Creek on the Irene-Frost road Thursday of this week.

Judge E. D. McCormick stated Sam T. Curry, constable of the Frost-Blooming Grove-Raleigh area, desired to resign and that Sheriff C. O. Curington had requested the appointment of Curry as a deputy sheriff to serve the west end of the county at $40 per month. The commissioners postponed action until the next meeting of the court.

A road on the old Frost-Blooming Grove route, recently closed by an order of the commissioners court, was ordered re-opened after J. N. George, former commissioner, stated that conditions required on the previous order could not be carried out.

A request from W. T. Stockton, Kerens banker, for the closing of the road east of Oliver Bridge, spanning Chambers Creek, or the fixing of the road was made. Slough bridges have been swept away and he stated there was no traffic involved in that area at the present time. No action was taken Tuesday morning.

Explains Stamp Plan.

In the beginning of his explanation of the stamp plan, Mr. Stowe said there were three requirements necessary to put the plan in operation as follows:

1. County sponsor it.
2. Bankers agree to handle the stamps at cost to the merchants if presented to be sent into the regional office for redemption.
3. Retail merchants endorse the plan and agree to co-operate.

The speaker said the plan would bring in between $100,000 and $125,000 more per year than the present relief plan. He said bankers could charge postage, shipping and insurance for their work, and it was necessary for every bank in the county to sign the agreement today or Wednesday.

Stowe explained how the orange stamps were to be purchased by persons securing old age assistance and WPA checks, and then the giving of the blue stamps in addition. It also was brought out how the unemployables, those getting surplus commodities, will be issued free blue stamps.

The stamps are in 25-cent denominations and will be used to purchase merchandise at any retail store. This proposal is to replace the direct relief commodities, if adopted.

It was brought out, however, the county would not be relieved of the hauling of commodities into the county as the commodities going to the lunch-at-school WPA program would still be a county problem.

Many Using Plan.

Stowe said there were 133 Texas counties operating under this stamp plan at the present time and sixty-six more are to be added by May 15. He said no county had dropped the plan after its adoption.

Judge McCormick said Navarro County was hauling an average of a truck load of commodities into the county daily, serving some 9,200 people, and that the cost to the county was getting too big a load.

Turning to another portion of the discussion, Stowe advised those present that the county would be required to pay the administrative costs. He said that an issuance agent, a cashier, both of whom would be under $5,000 bond, and possible three additional workers would be required. Space for their offices would also be required from the county. WPA formerly furnished the workers, but this has been discontinued, Stowe stated. Judge McCormick wanted to know why this information had not been given the officials here, and Stowe said his office did not receive the discontinuance order by WPA until Sunday. This will cause an increase in the cost to the participating counties.

Discuss Details.

Some discussion was held among the commissioners as to whether the case workers could not carry on the additional program and hire cheaper help to do the added work. Stowe said it was the county's business as to they hire, etc., but said reports, adults, etc., would be required from time to time, necessitating considerable clerical work.

Judge McCormick said the court had demonstrated it wanted to do everything possible, but if a gain in benefits at a reduced cost to the county was not possible, there was nothing for the county to do.

Another requirement is that a report be made each ninety days by the case workers on the unemployables—those to receive the free blue stamps. Details relative to old age assistance, CCC, WPA, FSA and other present groups to being placed in family units were outlined.

Another requirements mentioned was the approximately $7,500 revolving fund put up by the sponsor—county—which is to purchase stamps, but which is not spent and remains until the project is stopped—similar to an escrow agreement.

ENUMERATORS URGED CHECK SCHOLASTICS IN ALL DISTRICTS

School district census enumerators Wednesday were urged by J. C. Watson, county school superintendent, to check carefully to determine whether any scholastics have been overlooked.

Any scholastic found not on the roll can be enrolled at the county superintendent's office. Each scholastic brings the State apportionment of $22.05 to the district.

The county superintendent said frequently scholastics are not enumerated when they are not six years of age at the present time, but will reach the age before Sept. 1. Others missed are those not 18 when they have already finished or quit school or have married.

Watson said everyone who is six before Sept. 1 or 18 after that date were supposed to be enrolled by the census enumerators.
